San Rafael Bank Directors Vote To Negotiate Merger

W. P. Murray Celebrates 50th Anniversary

GIFT FOR 50 YEARS—William P. Murray, president of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, looks over scroll with employees' names which was given him by Arthur C. Latno (left), as employee representative, along with 50 red roses today—50th anniversary of Murray's association with the banks. Coincidentally, the board of directors announced opening of negotiations for merger with Crocker-Anglo National Bank. (Independent-Journal photo)

Directors of the Bank of San Rafael and First National Bank in San Rafael voted late yesterday to proceed with an offer by Croker-Anglo National Bank to negotiate for merger.

Next step, will be for Crocker-Anglo to evaluate assets of the two San Rafael institutions, which are operated by a single board.

Following this check-up of assets, Crocker-Anglo is expected to make a firm offer which will be presented to the stockholders for vote.

President William P. Murray today observed his 50th anniversary with the San Rafael bank and was honored by a surprise party.

Bank employees congratulated him on getting to the half-century mark and gave him 50 red roses with a scroll bearing their names, with pictures of the bank branches.

But Murray gave out a statement indicating belief that he won't be serving much longer. He said that following a tentative offer by Crocker-Anglo a month ago today, it appeared that a large percentage of the major stockholders wished to negotiate.

"This factor," he said, "is the prime reason for the board's action" opening negotiations for the merger.

Crocker-Anglo in its tentative offer proposed to give 350,000 shares of its own stock, currently selling at $35 a share, for the 175,000 shares of the San Rafael institutions. San Rafael-First National voting trust stock, par value $20 per share, recently brought $46 at public auction.

Of the 175,00 combined shares, 90,000 shares are in voting trust with charter restrictions on sale while the remaining 85,000 shares may be freely traded.

The directors' decision to open the door for merger was announced as unanimous.

PLANNING DIRECTOR TO RETIRE IN 1961

Mrs. Summers Would Round Out 20 Years With County Agency

Mrs. Mary Summers, planning director of Marin County since 1941, announced today that she plans to retire from the position "by the end of 1961."

"Both my husband and I have been looking forward to early retirement, but there are things in the planning stage right now that I would like to see completed before I retire," Mrs. Summers declared. "I believe they all will be completed by the end of 1961."

Her husband, Harold Summers, is eligible for retirement now from the California Division of Highways, she said. "It is our intention to retire together," Mrs. Summers said.

Their home is in Kent Woodlands.

Mrs. Summers took charge of Marin County's planning service at the age of 24. She has been a controversial figure, particularly regarding her firm stand on some planning issues.

There had been rumors circulating through the courthouse that the new majority on the county board of supervisors (re-elected William D. Fusselman, and newly elected J. Walter Blair and George Ludy) who will be in office in January, planned to discharge the planning director.

Fusselman today said he knew nothing about any proposal to dismiss Mrs. Summers. "I have disagreed with her in a number of things, but personally I've had no idea of firing her," he declared.

Fusselman said that the three men "haven't gotten together at all to discuss or plan anything out."

4th Great Debate On Tonight, But Just For 1 Hour

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy meet tonight in their fourth television and radio debate. The program will be the same length as the others—one hour.

The debate goes on the air at 9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time from the American Broadcasting Co's TV center on West 66th Street. It also will be broadcast and televised by NBC and CBS, and broadcast by the Mutual Radio network.

Representatives of both presidential candidates finally agreed yesterday to limit tonight's debate to one hour. There had been talk of making the program two hours, with the final 60 minutes devoted to answering questions from viewers by telephone.

The debate will be seen on Bay Area television stations tonight at 10 o'clock.

It will be carried at that hour by KRON-TV (Channel 4), KPIX-TV (Channel 5) and KGO-TV (Channel 7). KQED-TV (Channel 9) will not be on the air during the debate.

The debate can be heard earlier via radio, at 6 p.m. on KCBS and KGO, and at 7:30 on KNBC.

The issue of an extended program time grew out of a proposal by Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, to hold a fifth debate as close as possible to the Nov. 8 election.

Nixon, the Republican candidate, turned Kennedy's proposal down and suggested instead that the fourth debate be extended to two hours.

DIFFICULT SCHEDULE

However, last night Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said "the door is slightly open" to a fifth debate. But other Nixon aides have said it would be difficult to revise campaign tour plans for the closing weeks and work in another debate.

While campaigning here yesterday, Kennedy, needling Nixon on the question of a fifth debate, said: "It is an interesting fact that he is willing to debate with a mimeograph machine that permits only one side, but is unwilling to make his answers and charges in direct TV confrontation with 70 million people watching."

It will be Nixon's first telecast from the New York ABC studio. Kennedy appeared there last week when he debated Nixon, who was in a California studio.

COTTAGES AVAILABLE

Each candidate will have his own small, two-room cottage in the studio to ensure privacy before they go on the air. The cottages are equipped with desks, lamps, sofas, easy chairs, telephones, and wall-to-wall carpeting.

On the foot-high broadcast stage, each man will be provided with a podium and stool.

They will face a panel of four radio-TV newscasters: John Edwards of ABC, Walter Cronkite of CBS, Frank Singiser of Mutual, and John Chancellor of NBC. Quincy Howe of ABC will be moderator.

There will be no "live" audience except for three news photographers and three reporters.

Nixon will open the program with an eight-minute statement, after which Kennedy will be allowed a similar period. The next half-hour will be devoted to questions from the panel—with each candidate having 2½ minutes to reply, and 1½ minutes to comment on his opponent's answer.

NO CAPS, GOWNS

Graduation: Circumstance, But No Pomp

By BILL BOLDENWECK

Last night's graduation ceremonies at Bayview High School were much like any other commencement exercise: The same oratory, the same sort of musical accompaniment, the same bashful pride on the part of the graduates.

But there were differences: There was no procession of graduates into or out of the ceremonies. There were no caps and gowns, and the graduates didn't shake dad's hand, kiss mom and rush off for an all-night round of parties and dances—for Bayview High is in San Quentin Prison.

As some 60 guests filed into the prison garden chapel, they found the graduates waiting, already seated in neat blue-clad ranks. While the guests were being seated in the rear of the chapel, the inmates peered around, craning their necks to examine the visitors.

Some nodded and smiled at instructors who had led them to this moment.

Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff, almost painfully polite and having something extra nice to say about everyone, introduced guests and speakers after a short invocation by one of the prison's chaplains. Then he turned over the rostrum to student salutatorian Ralph Shubert.

Shubert, speaking bashfully at first but picking up steam as he went along, spoke pridefully of the graduates' pride, hopefully of the graduates' hope. Both students and guests listened intently, many of the audience nodding and smiling gently as if to lend encouragement when his address seemed to be faltering.

Following a word of congratulation from N. H. McCollom, principal of Bayview, the robed prison choir, with a mixture of poise and self-consciousness, delivered two songs: "You'll Never Walk Alone," strangely poignant in its present context, and an Alma Mater—the Cornell song with new lyrics, naming no school and devoid of any reference to looking back with affection and pride to the old school.

Visiting dignitaries offered congratulations and encouragement to the graduates. Warden Fred R. Dickson, a note of pride in his voice, said: "It gives me new hope and courage to see people helping themselves."

As the oratory ran its course, 210 men came forward to receive elementary and high school diplomas, certificates of completion for college and correspondence courses, and vocational certificates.

The ceremonies at an end, the guests filed out into the night and headed homeward.

The graduates stayed in their seats. They were already home.

State Approves Funds For 7 Novato Streets

The California Division of Highways has approved seven Novato streets as "major" thoroughfares, making them eligible for use of state gasoline tax funds for repair and construction.

The city has $30,000 for the present fiscal year from gas tax rebates which can be used for specific road projects, after state approval, on "major" streets. Another $22,000 is available for maintenance.

Novato earlier had asked approval of a list of 28 streets. State highway officials disapproved 10 of the streets, regarding them as strictly local, and not having a large amount of traffic. Approval was given to 11, with others gaining provisional approval depending on annexation.

A letter received by the city clerk today gave further approval to seven more streets; provisional approval to three, and promised future approval of one, depending on extension, and disapproved two.

The letter came as a result of a report drawn up by city building inspector Fred Westfall, Aileen Runkel of the county planning staff, and county public works director Marvin W. Brigham.

Newly approved streets are parts of center Road, Seventh Street, Tamalpais Avenue, Sutro Avenue, Sunset Parkway, First Street and Vallejo Avenue.

Commuters Grope Way Through Pea-Soup Fog

Marin commuters groped their way this morning through pea-soup fog that contributed to one of two injury auto accidents.

Elsewhere in the Bay Area, the fog caused power failures and more accidents.

The fog closed San Francisco Airport to landings until 8:30 a.m., although takeoffs were permitted. At Hamilton Air Force Base, planes were operating normally, base officials reported.

San Rafael office of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. reported Marin luckily escaped intermittent power failures reported elsewhere from Salinas to Contra Costa County due to wire burn-outs when the fog short-circuited dust-covered insulators.

While fog shrouded Marin's lowlands, it was "nice and sunny" atop Mount Tamalpais, reported Sgt. J. P. Stapleton of the 666th Aircraft and Airways Control Squadron's radar stations.

By noon, the fog had lifted from ground level but mist still overhung the bay and its environs.

John B. Vick, 37, of San Francisco was taken to Marin General with chest and head injuries after his car collided with an almost halted car driven by Louis A. Arrighi of 177 D Street, San Rafael, on the Golden Gate Bridge at 6:17 a.m. He was later transferred to San Rafael General Hospital.

Arrighi told Patrolman D. J. Dowling he had been suffering from trouble in his car's transmission and almost come to a halt in the extreme right lane. Fog was dense and Vick sighted the Arrighi car only an instant before crashing into it.

Mrs. Claire Lusher, 39, of Forest Knolls, was westbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard just west of the Woodacre turnoff when the left front tire of her car blew out, causing the car to skid 220 feet and go off the south embankment.

The car went down 30 feet, rolled over and traveled another 30 feet into a field.

Mrs. Lusher was thrown out. She was admitted to Marin General suffering from head and abdominal injuries.

'Pillow Case' Thief Strikes Strawberry

A "pillow case" burglar ransacked a doctor's home in Strawberry last night while the family was away for about an hour, and escaped with about $2,000 in loot.

Dr. Charles Levant Yeager, 53, of 251 Reed Boulevard, told Sheriff's Deputy William N. McKillop the family was away from about 7:20 to 8:30 p.m. When they returned, the front door was ajar, and the interior a mess.A bedroom window had been pried open for entry.

Missing are jewelry, clothes, coins, electrical appliances and other household effects. Two pillow cases are missing from the bedroom.

Among other items taken were a .22 caliber rifle, European coins, electric shavers, $20 bottle of perfume, suit cases, typewritter, record player, about 25 records, three wrist watches, cameras, binoculars, and a three-dimension viewer.

Cache Of Liquor May Be Destroyed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A cache of liquor confiscated from the Kentfield home of retired Rear Adm. Richard L. Erdmann will probably be destroyed or given to non-profit organizations for scientific or medical purposes.

A petition was filed in Federal Court here yesterday asking the forfeiture by Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Ensign. It involves 816 bottles of choice liquors brought into the country tax free by Erdmann who last week pleaded guilty to two misdemeanor liquor tax charges.

He will be sentenced in federal court here Nov. 4.

Two Homes Crashed By Runaway Cars

Two cars—one them driverless — slammed into houses in San Rafael within an hour last night. Imost miraculously no one was injured.

Shortly before 10 p.m. a car driven by Bruce M. McPhail, 16, of 16 Manderly Road, San Rafael, went out of control on San Pedro Road in front of the Glenwood subdivision.

Skidding almost 100 yards, the car sheared off a guy wire to a power pole, jumped the center divider, leaped over the curb, smashed into the front porch at 4 Knight Drive, ripping out a post, and careened into the garage shattering the frame wall.

"I heard it coming," exclaimed Reid J. DeArmond, the owner of the house, "then the crash."

Dazed and shaken, the young driver told Police Officer Leon A. deLisle Jr. he had been traveling alone on San Pedro Road when the clutch pedal stuck. He said he reached down to pull it out and the car went out of control.

DeLisle, who said the boy admitted traveling 50 miles per hour in the 35 mile zone, cited him for driving without due caution.

Less than one hour later, at 10:45 p.m., a driverless station wagon rolled down Coleman Drive in San Rafael, plunged partway over an embankment and ploughed into the side of the house of Mrs. Marie D.

Woman Struck, Injured By Car

Helen Rose Raphael of 625 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, struck by a car as she walked across Lincoln Avenue at Fifth Avenue yesterday, was reported in good condition today in San Rafael General Hospital.

Police Officer Raymond Bleasdale said the 51-year-old woman was hit by a car driven by Charles C. Bell, 42, of 11 Allensby Lane, San Rafael. She suffered a fractured right wrist.

Bell was making a left turn to go north on Lincoln Avenue about 10 a.m. when he struck the woman. He was cited for failure to yield to a pedestrian in a crosswalk.

Two Homes Crashed By Runaway Cars

Two cars—one of them driverless — slammed into houses in San Rafael within an hour last night, lmost miraculously no one was injured.

Shortly before 10 p.m. a car driven by Bruce M. McPhail, 16, of 16 Manderly Road, San Rafael, went out of control on San Pedro Road in front of the Glenwood subdivision.

Skidding almost 100 yards, the car sheared off a guy wire to a power pole, jumped the center divider, leaped over the curb, smashed into the front porch at 4 Knight Drive, ripping out a post, and careened into the garage shattering the frame wall.

"I heard it coming," exclaimed Reid J. DeArmond, the owner of the house, "then the crash."

Dazed and shaken, the young driver told Police Officer Leon A. deLisle Jr. he had been traveling alone on San Pedro Road when the clutch pedal stuck. He said he reached down to pull it out and the car went out of control.

DeLisle, who said the boy admitted traveling 50 miles per hour in the 35 mile zone, cited him for driving without due caution.

Less than one hour later, at 10:45 p.m., a driverless station wagon rolled down Coleman Drive in San Rafael, plunged partway over an embankment and ploughed into the side of the house of Mrs. Marie D.

Kennedy Again Presses For Further Debates

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy today challenged Vice President Richard M. Nixon to declare during their television debate tonight that he is willing to meet Kennedy again before a nationwide TV audience.

The Democratic presidential candidate wired his Republican opponent:

"Only in this way will the American people be able to evaluate the arguments and issues which are raised in the closing days of the campaign."

Kennedy told Nixon, who has consistently said no to a fifth TV debate, "in fact I believe that more than five debates would be helpful if the record were to be corrected properly.

"If you should relent in your opposition to further debates —and I invite you to so state in tonight's debate—I hope your representatives can contact mine to work out one or more dates at the earlies opportunity."

Kennedy sent the telegram to Nixon as his staff happily seized on a windfall assist from a Republican senator in preparing for tonight's debate, the last scheduled under existing arrangements.

Meantime, Mrs. Diorelle Laguardia, widow of the former New York mayor, issued a statement in support of Kennedy for president. Her husband was a Republican who often got Democratic backing.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York conceded yesterday that "no matter what anyone says," U.S. prestige in the world has declined.

It would be silly to contend otherwise, the senator said in a campaign discussion with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Javits is considered a member of the Republican party liberal wing.

The reaction of Kennedy's staff left no doubt that the Democratic candidate will use Javits' statement to the full in his television and radio meeting tonight with Nixon.

"This is exactly what Sen. Kennedy has been saying all along is the central issue of the campaign," one Kennedy adviser said.

Nixon has said repeatedly that "Communist prestige in the world is at an all-time low and American prestige is at an all-time high."

Kennedy has taken the opposite tack—that U.S. influence has dangerously declined as the Soviet Union has narrowed the gap in military, economic and scientific achievements and threatened to push ahead.

Javits said the prestige of the United States has suffered as a result of U2 plane flights over the Soviet Union, the anti-American student riots in Japan, and developments in the Congo. The senator said, however, that he would stake the world prestige of President Eisenhower against that of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Ike Praises International City Congress

SAN DIEGO (AP) — President Eisenhower today attended an Inter-American Conference on city government problems and called the session a fine way to build good will among western hemisphere nations.

"And I can think of nothing in this whole vast region that is of more importance to all our nations, large and small," Eisenhower said.

The President, on a cross-country speaking tour, flew here from San Francisco. He'll spend the weekend golfing in Palm Springs.

He was a guest here at a luncheon meeting of the eighth Inter-American Congress of Municipalities.

In his prepared remarks the President called the congress "an immediate people-to-people approach to the furthering of good hemispheric relationships."

He added: "Our respective national governments are not involved. It has been planned and carried out entirely by private citizens and municipal governmental officials. I give my enthusiastic support . . ."

As he has many times in the past, Eisenhower said the primary responsibility for handling and solution of municipal problems rests with the city governments.

Demos Ponder Attitude On Ike's Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic high command is taking a wait-and-see attitude over just how nonpolitical President Eisenhower's current coast-to-coast speaking tour is.

Estimates of the cost to the taxpayer for the nine-day trip range up to $38,000.

"We probably won't holler unless the trip becomes more blatantly political than it has been," a Democratic national committee spokesman said. "Some of his remarks have been no more political than one of his news conferences."

He said further consideration would be given to Eisenhower's speech in San Francisco last night. Sen. John F. Kennedy's California chairman called that "a partisan campaign speech" and said he would demand equal radio-TV time for a reply.

A GOP political calendar for Oct. 16-22 lists the President's itinerary beginning with his Detroit appearance last Monday. He is given top billing over other Republican notables including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate.

But L. Richard Guylay, public relations director for the Republican National Committee under whose name the calendar was issued, insisted the trip is nonpolitical, as the White House called it.

Guylay said the President was not asked by the Republican National Committee to make the trip, which will include talks next week with Mexican President Adolfe Lopez Mateos.

"The trip is nonpolitical and that's it," Guylay said. "If anyone says it is political their statement is contrary to the facts."

Washington headquarters of Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, declined comment. "We're not even remotely involved in it," a Nixon aide said.

More Marines In Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Marine forces at the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba have been strengthened, the Navy said today.

A Navy spokesman declined to say how much of an increase had been made, but said it was "not large." The normal complement of Marines at Guantanamo is 180 men and eight officers, the spokesman said.

The reinforcements, the spokesman said, consist of "a small number of security troops carrying only sidearms."

Nixon Charges Kennedy Showed Phony TV Film

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today charged Sen. John F. Kennedy with showing a phony film of their first television debate. A Republican campaign spokesman called it "vicious political trickery."

Nixon headquarters also denounced a political cartoon circulated by the United Auto Workers, saying that it suggests anyone who votes for the GOP presidential candidate is a bigot.

Robert H. Finch, Nixon's campaign director, leveled the attack at Kennedy as the vice president prepared for the last of the televised campaign debates tonight.

Finch said a five-minute televised political commercial which appeared in New York yesterday was altered by Kennedy technicians. They changed the sequence of appearances, Finch said, to portray Nixon as agreeing with Kennedy during a single speech by the Democratic candidate.

Actually, Finch said, "a series of comments by Sen. Kennedy was run together to appear as one delivery, and the shot of the vice president was inserted where the film was spliced."

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said a formal complaint "undoubtedly" will be lodged against the TV film. He said the complaint might be filed with the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, a nonpartisan organization set up to review campaign complaints.

Asked by a reporter whether a complaint might also be filed with the Federal Communications Commission, Klein said there are no plans for that now.

Klein said the film was "another indication of the smear campaign. We're worried about the trend toward this type of politics and we just wonder what they're going to do next."

He said Nixon aides have viewed original films of the debate and that the Nixon shots on the Kennedy campaign film were definitely out of context.

After the first debate, some Republicans suggested Nixon was too agreeable with Kennedy's statements, and urged him to be more aggressive in their later meetings.

Finch said the Kennedy film "can only be called vicious political trickery of the most contemptible sort." He also asserted:

"This, together with the Reuther smear sheet put out suggesting anyone who votes for Vice President Nixon is a bigot indicates that Kennedy will go to any length and use any device in his desperate effort to win this election."

Finch referred to an insert circulated in a newspaper published by the auto workers union, headed by Walter Reuther. President Eisenhower also had denounced the published item.

After it appeared, Reuther expressed public regrets for it, and said a subsequent issue would include an editorial to eliminate any "possible misinterpretation."

The cartoon showed a figure of a Ku Klux Klan member and the Statue of Liberty with the caption: "Which do you choose? Liberty or bigotry?" It did not mention Nixon.

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today charged Sen. John F. Kennedy with showing a phony film of their first television debate. A Republican campaign spokesman called it "vicious political trickery."

Nixon headquarters also denounced a political cartoon circulated by the United Auto Workers, saying that it suggests anyone who votes for the GOP presidential candidate is a bigot.

Robert H. Finch, Nixon's campaign director, leveled the attack at Kennedy as the vice president prepared for the last of the televised campaign debates tonight.

Finch said a five-minute televised political commercial which appeared in New York yesterday was altered by Kennedy technicians. They changed the sequence of appearances, Finch said, to portray Nixon as agreeing with Kennedy during a single speech by the Democratic candidate.

Actually, Finch said, "a series of comments by Sen. Kennedy was run together to appear as one delivery, and the shot of the vice president was inserted where the film was spliced."

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said a formal complaint "undoubtedly" will be lodged against the TV film. He said the complaint might be filed with the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, a nonpartisan organization set up to review campaign complaints.

Asked by a reporter whether a complaint might also be filed with the Federal Communications Commission, Klein said there are no plans for that now.

Klein said the film was "another indication of the smear campaign. We're worried about the trend toward this type of politics and we just wonder what they're going to do next."

He said Nixon aides have viewed original films of the debate and that the Nixon shots on the Kennedy campaign film were definitely out of context.

After the first debate, some Republicans suggested Nixon was too agreeable with Kennedy's statements, and urged him to be more aggressive in their later meetings.

Finch said the Kennedy film "can only be called vicious political trickery of the most contemptible sort." He also asserted:

"This, together with the Reuther smear sheet put out suggesting anyone who votes for Vice President Nixon is a bigot indicates that Kennedy will go to any length and use any device in his desperate effort to win this election."

Finch referred to an insert circulated in a newspaper published by the auto workers union, headed by Walter Reuther. President Eisenhower also had denounced the published item.

After it appeared, Reuther expressed public regrets for it, and said a subsequent issue would include an editorial to eliminate any "possible misinterpretation."

The cartoon showed a figure of a Ku Klux Klan member and the Statue of Liberty with the caption: "Which do you choose? Liberty or bigotry?" It did not mention Nixon.

Ike Rips Attacks On U.S. Prestige

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Eisenhower says claims that America is becoming a second-rate power with prestige already at an all-time low are debasement of the truth and irresponsible.

Retorting, Sen. John F. Kennedy's camp accuses Eisenhower of an attack on the Democratic presidential nominee in making such assertions, and has demanded equal free television and radio time for a reply.

Roger Kent, of Kentfield, Kennedy's California campaign chairman, contends that Eisenhower—on a cross-country speaking tour which the White House has billed as non-political—made a partisan campaign speech last night before San Francisco's Commonwealth Club. The President's speech was carried by radio and television stations in the area.

DECLINES COMMENT

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, declined comment on that charge but said Kent didn't know what he was talking about in declaring Eisenhower had asked for free TV and radio time.

The President, traveling on to San Diego today for a midday speech, did not mention Kennedy by name in his talk to an audience of about 1,900 at the Commonwealth Club dinner.

There was a round of applause when Eisenhower said, "While maintaining a healthy critical insight, let us not be misled by those who, inexplicably, seem so fond of depreciating the standing, condition and performance of the entire nation.

'AVOID SMUGNESS'

"Surely we must avoid smugness and complacency. But when in the face of a bright record of progress and development, we hear some misguided people wail that the United States is stumbling into the status of a second-class power and that our prestige has slumped to an all-time low, we are simply listening to debasement of the truth."

Kennedy has contended that United States prestige abroad deteriorated during the Eisenhower administration.

The Democratic candidate has declared he does not regard this country as a second-rate nation. He has said America is strong but needs to be stronger in the decade ahead because of the Soviet Union's gains in military might and its economic growth.

The President's speech was made public in advance of delivery. Even before he went before his dinner audience, the Kennedy camp was firing back.

Kent said there was no question the address was a partisan campaign speech.

"It is a mockery of justice for any office-holder—including the President of the United States—to ask free radio and television time for an openly partisan, political speech unless equal free time is given to the opposition."

Hagerty replied the White House had not asked for free time or requested that the address be carried in TV and radio. It was carried in the area — voluntarily, Hagerty said, by four San Francisco TV channels, by one of the city's radio stations, and on the radio by a Sacramento station.

After the President concluded his speech, Kent issued another statement saying: "No one really believes that Mr. Eisenhower came to San Francisco or spoke tonight without political intent. He said as much himself upon his arrival at the airport."

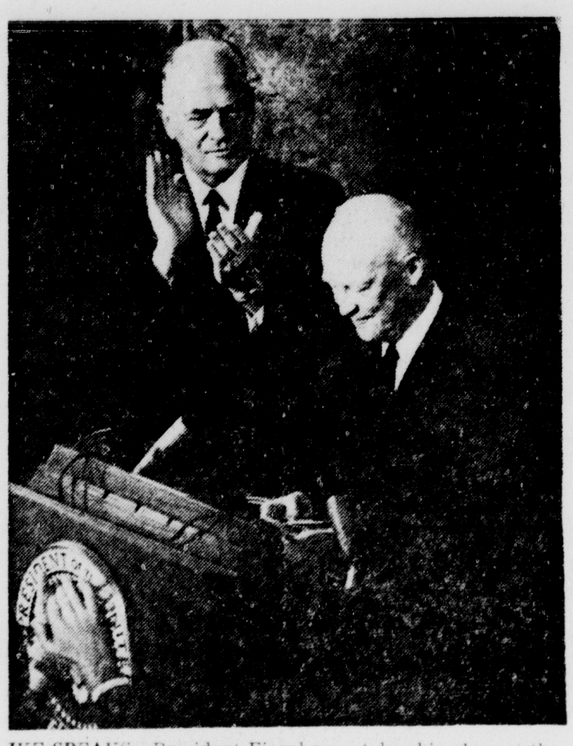

On arrival in San Francisco yesterday, Eisenhower smiled in telling California's Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown: "This is a non-political tour, but I'll do all I can to see that Nixon is elected."

That was the President's reply when Brown, a twinkle in his eye, cautioned Eisenhower not to "do too much for Mr. Nixon on this trip."

Kent's after-speech statement said:

"Any claim that this address was non-political is a phony. Neither the commentator's statement to this effect nor the ommission of names conceals this fact. Indeed, as Madison Avenue knows, implications, innuendo, overtone and suggestions are even more effective than an overt statement or charge and Mr. Eisenhower's speech tonight makes use of all these techniques."

Kent then sent all the television stations which carried the speech a request for equal time for the Democrats to reply.

Rep. Miller Rips Indigent Proposal

Rep. Clement W. Miller celebrated last night at a combined one-term and 44th birthday observation, with a slashing attack on the doctors and a call for conservationists, lumbermen and recreationists to unite for the benefit of all.

He spoke at a $25-per-plate dinner in the Meadow Club, Fairfax, attended by 85 state and county Democratic leaders.

Featured with him on the program was Sen. Clair M. Engle, who urged a 25,000 to 30,000 vote majority for Miller Nov. 8 "as a belated birthday present."

Engle also called for election of Everett A. Matzen to the State Assembly and Charles M. Geller to the State Senate from this district, as well as the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the national campaign.

He also praised two other Marinites, Roger Kent and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, state Democratic Central Committee chairman and national committeewoman respectively, as the "finest, most dedicated, loyal and effective leaders of the Democratic Party in the state."

Both the local candidates, Kent and Mrs. Smith were at the head table. Others seated there were Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Matzen, Mrs. Engle and Harold Morgan, Marin Democratic County Central Committee chairman, who was master of ceremonies.

Miller touched lightly on his stands on foreign policy, housing, farming, unemployment and fiscal matters.

He declared he was proud of his voting record on spending. "Why is it," he asked, "that they call it investment in business, but that it is spending in government? Actually it is investment in America, and on the issue of spending, we're in very good shape."

He criticized doctors for proposing "a straw man" in their promise of care to the indigent. He said it is not the indigent that need help so much as the white collar workers who want to pay but must deplete their finances to do so.

"It is regretable that the medical profession has taken me up on this issue," he declared. "I want to work with them. We need the support and help of these people to get a good medical care bill. We're going to get one anyway, if they'd help we might get a better bill."

He declared the doctors have "a proprietary air" about health matters. "Suppose we yank out our investment in medical schools . . . and hospitals?" he asked. "They owe us cooperation, not hostile opposition."

Turning to the issues of conservation, he called for people favoring "wilderness areas" to change their attack. "We're not just 'bird watchers'," he said. "There is a definite economic basis, the protection of the watershed, of the deep slopes and other things" in favor of the program. "We should stress this."

Conservationists, recreationalists, lumbermen, flood control, and many others are competing for the "tiny slice" of the federal dollar earmarked for such activities, he went on.

"If we are going to get Point Reyes Park or reforestation or playgrounds and parks for day use, we've got to work together," he declared.

In Washington, conservationists are "destroying each other," he asserted.

Miller called definitions inserted in the "multiple use bill" for national forests "my major legislative achievement" of his first term in Congress. Insertion of the definitions of multiple use and sustained yield in the bill made it "an effective and meaningful measure," he said, yet "during the battle I had no word from the conservation groups, except the Sierra Club operating from 3,000 miles away."

The Point Reyes Park bill "will languish and linger unless it gets a tremendous upsurge of interest," he declared. "At present, the voice of conservation and recreation is not heard in Washington."

Winner Of Bargain Days Prize Told

Top $100 prize-winner in San Anselmo Bargain Days' giveaway was known today, and an interesting situation was shaping up about the three other prizes.

Mrs. Colin Sparks of 31 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, identified herself to the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce as holder of a number which had been drawn as having first claim on a first prize $100 merchandise certificate.

Three similar prizes were offered, one good for $50 in merchandise and the other two for $25 each. Ten numbers were drawn for each prize. In case the holder of the first number doesn't show by 2 p.m. tomorrow, the second in line will be eligible till 2 p.m. Monday.

George G. Washburn, secretary of the chamber, said Mrs. William M. Corns of Baywood Avenue, Ross, had shown up with the third number for one of the $25 prizes. In case neither of the first two numbers is presented Mrs. Corns will be eligible to collect after 2 p.m. Monday.

"But here's something," added Washburn. "It turns out Mrs. Corns also has the 10th number for the other $25 prize. I haven't figured out yet just when she might be eligible to get that one."

Quick calculation, subject to correction, indicates that it might come up at 2 p.m. of Nov. 1 if nobody has spoken for the $50 second prize by then.

Sanitation Unit Votes To Annex Area At McNear's

Directors of the San Rafael Sanitation District voted yesterday to annex more than 100 acres around McNear Beach.

The area, which is bordered by San Pedro and Quarry Roads, contains the McNear Beach recreational facilities and the proposed 25-lot Bahia Vista subdivision of Equitec Corp.

Voting was unanimous by three-man board, which passed a resolution of intention to annex the property on the condition that the sewer lines be put in by the developer. After they are built, the district will maintain them.

First step will be sewers for the 13-acre subdivision (the county planners approved a tentative map for the development on Sept. 12) and later sewers for the beach facilities, which now use septic tanks.

MARIN MAGAZINE

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY IN THE INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK— In a change of pace your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine will devote its "Marin Profile" article tomorrow to one of the county's younger residents. He is talented David Del Tredici, San Anelmo resident, pianist and composer. Independent - Journal reporter Dorothy Simpers will tell you how natural ability and hard work have brought this young musician to the attention of our leading critics and concert pianists who predict a bright future for him. Del Tredici's personal plans and ambitions for that future will also be discussed.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

Rep. Miller Rips Indigent Proposal

Rep. Clement W. Miller celebrated last night at a combined one-term and 44th birthday observation, with a slashing attack on the doctors and a call for conservationists, lumbermen and recreationists to unite for the benefit of all.

He spoke at a $25-per-plate dinner in the Meadow Club, Fairfax, attended by 85 state and county Democratic leaders.

Featured with him on the program was Sen. Clair M. Engle, who urged a 25,000 to 30,000 vote majority for Miller Nov. 8 "as a belated birthday present."

Engle also called for election of Everett A. Matzen to the State Assembly and Charles M. Geller to the State Senate from this district, as well as the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the national campaign.

He also praised two other Marinites, Roger Kent and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, state Democratic Central Committee chairman and national committeewoman respectively, as the "finest, most dedicated, loyal and effective leaders of the Democratic Party in the state."

Both the local candidates, Kent and Mrs. Smith were at the head table. Others seated there were Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Matzen, Mrs. Engle and Harold Morgan, Marin Democratic County Central Committee chairman, who was master of ceremonies.

Miller touched lightly on his stands on foreign policy, housing, farming, unemployment and fiscal matters.

He declared he was proud of his voting record on spending. "Why is it," he asked, "that they call it investment in business, but that it is spending in government? Actually it is investment in America, and on the issue of spending, we're in very good shape."

He criticized doctors for proposing "a straw man" in their promise of care to the indigent. He said it is not the indigent that need help so much as the white collar workers who want to pay but must deplete their finances to do so.

"It is regretable that the medical profession has taken me up on this issue," he declared. "I want to work with them. We need the support and help of these people to get a good medical care bill. We're going to get one anyway, if they'd help we might get a better bill."

He declared the doctors have "a proprietary air" about health matters. "Suppose we yank out our investment in medical schools . . . and hospitals?" he asked. "They owe us cooperation, not hostile opposition."

Turning to the issues of conservation, he called for people favoring "wilderness areas" to change their attack. "We're not just 'bird watchers'," he said. "There is a definite economic basis, the protection of the watershed, of the deep slopes and other things" in favor of the program. "We should stress this."

Conservationists, recreationalists, lumbermen, flood control, and many others are competing for the "tiny slice" of the federal dollar earmarked for such activities, he went on.

"If we are going to get Point Reyes Park or reforestation or playgrounds and parks for day use, we've got to work together," he declared.

In Washington, conservationists are "destroying each other," he asserted.

Miller called definitions inserted in the "multiple use bill" for national forests "my major legislative achievement" of his first term in Congress. Insertion of the definitions of multiple use and sustained yield in the bill made it "an effective and meaningful measure," he said, yet "during the battle I had no word from the conservation groups, except the Sierra Club operating from 3,000 miles away."

The Point Reyes Park bill "will languish and linger unless it gets a tremendous upsurge of interest," he declared. "At present, the voice of conservation and recreation is not heard in Washington."

MARIN MAGAZINE

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY IN THE INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

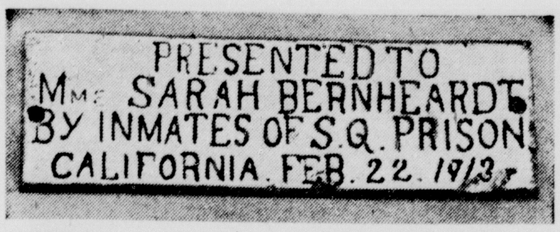

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK—In a change of pace your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine will devote its "Marin Profile" article tomorrow to one of the county's younger residents. He is talented David Del Tredici, San Anselmo resident, pianist and composer. Independent - Journal reporter Dorothy Simpers will tell you how natural ability and hard work have brought this young musician to the attention of our leading critics and concert pianists who predict a bright future for him. Del Tredici's personal plans and ambitions for that future will also be discussed.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

MEMENTO — A telephone company employee, digging a post hole beside Francisco Boulevard, turned up this metal plaque recalling the only appearance of the great Sarah Bernhardt in Marin County.

Sarah Bernhardt Visit Recalled By Memento

A chance discovery by a telephone company employee today recalled the only Marin County appearance of the great Sarah Bernhardt—an appearance behind prison walls.

Kenneth Cline of Ignacio, digging a hole for a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. pole in the 900 block of San Rafael's Francisco Boulevard, turned up a metal plates, two and one-half inches by three-quarters of an inch, inscribed:

"Presented to Mme. Bernhardt by inmates of SQ Prison, California, Feb. 22, 1913."

Nobody now at San Quentin knew anything about Bernhardt ever performing there, or receiving a gift from the prisoners. But ex-Warden Clinton Duffy of Greenbrae, who grew up in San Quentin Village, son of a prison employee, remembered.

Bernhardt performed in the lower yard, "where the old ball field was," on a canvas-topped stage, Duffy recalled. Duffy, then a boy of 14, had a front row seat.

The show lasted about two hours, he said. About 1,500 inmates, in the vertically striped uniforms that were then the San Quentin costume, sat on benches facing the stage.

Research disclosed the play was "Une Nuit de Noel, written for the great actress by her son, Maurice Bernhardt, in collaboration with Henri Cain.

Bernhardt was on her seventh and last tour of the United States when she made her San Quentin appearance. She died 10 years later in Paris, after one of the longest stage careers in history.

The play presented by her company was one of the first entertainments ever allowed inmates of San Quentin. The New's Day show, instituted two years later, still continues as the top entertainment feature of the prison's year.

Duffy surmised the plate found beneath the earth of Francisco Boulevard was the name plate from a framed scroll presented by the prisoners. It was customary in bygone days, he said, to present entertainers with such a scroll, framed behind glass and signed by the warden and a committee of prisoners.

How it came to lie forgotten in the outskirts of San Rafael while the old prison road turned into busy Highway 17 and El Camino Real gave way to Highway 101, no one could guess.

Building Aide To Wed Tonight

William McBride, Corte Madera building inspector and zoning administrator, and Patricia Champie will be married tonight at 8 o'clock in San Geronimo.

The wedding ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Pfeffer of 20 Meadow Way, will be followed by a reception at the Community Presbyterian Church.

The couple will make their home at 21 Meadow Way, San Geronimo.

Artist Says Tiki Stolen From Boat

Sausalito sculptor Barney West reported yesterday that someone has taken a seven-foot, 150-pound Tiki from his studio on the sunken schooner Lassen in the Arques shipyard.

West said the uninsured wooden South Sea figure, which he carved, had been promised to a Denver client.

BEANS ARE TERRIFIC

Parents Swamp Cafeteria To Sample Pupils' Food

Officials at the Meadow Park School in the San Jose School District had to borrow from the neighbors yesterday to feed unexpected guests.

They had thought it would be a good idea to invite some parents to a typical student lunch in the cafeteria.

Officials were optimistic that 50 to 100 parents to show up, along with the 150 to 170 students who regularly eat in the cafeteria. But between 250 and 300 parents and preschool youngsters swamped the cafeteria.

The supply of chili beans began to run low, so Mrs. Mattie Russeau, Meadow Park kitchen manager, borrowed beans and corn bread from other schools in the district. When the situation got drastic, Mrs. Ann Avilla, cafeteria supervisor for the district, rushed a pot of beans off her stove and to the school.

Teachers were pressed into service behind the cafeteria counters; Principal A. A. Rivasplata was in charge of garbage disposal; custodians and maintenance men washed dishes to keep up with the mob; Duane Moeller, assistant district superintendent, passed out silverware.

There was a "party atmosphere," said one Meadow Park official.

Butte, Mont., "the richest hill in the world," has produced gold, silver, copper, zinc and manganese.

Lagunitas Bids For School Due In 1961

Lagunitas School District trustees last night continued building program discussions with the architectural firm of Rosse and Callister, concentrating on the best use of land for an addition to the school.

Preliminary plans for the five-classroom addition are now being drawn.

Supt. Clifford Frye said the board hoped to be ready to call for bids late in January or early in February. Target date for completion is late August, 1961.

A site utilization plan and justification documents (reports needed to justify a state loan) have been approved by the state, the board learned.

The board also:

1. Noted that enrollment is now 387 and average daily attendance 376.
2. Discussed purchase of a second school bus but took no action.
3. Planned a special teacher meeting next Thursday from 3:15 to 5 p.m. Dr. Melville Homfeld, superintendent of Menlo Park School District, will discuss parent-teacher conferences.

Thieves Loot Sea Scout Boat

Thieves have been looting a 42-foot boat used by the Hamilton Air Force Base Sea Scouts, which is moored in the San Rafael Canal, the skipper reported yesterday.

Austin F. Ripley of 178 Reservoir Road, San Rafael, listed the following items missing from the boat, moored behind the Ames Ford warehouse on Francisco Boulevard: A 6-foot orange and black plywood dinghy, two boat hooks, two log books, a Sea Scout manual, three life jackets, assorted tools, parts of the first aid kit, tiller, electric fittings and handlines.

He told San Rafael police the thefts have been occurring during the past six weeks.

State Building Ready

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The new, nine-story, 11-million-dollar Los Angeles State Office Building at First Street and Broadway will be ready for partial occupancy Dec. 1.

A six-story garage building on the Hill Street side of the property will park 1,100 cars.

Civil Defense Sessions Underway In Novato

The first in a series of workshops on civil defense, on the home level, was held last night in Novato.

About 40 people showed up at Hill School. "But there should have been more," Mrs. Walter Haught said. "We're going to have to be prepared."

It was Mrs. Haught who pushed the workshop from an idea to reality, when she found Marin had no program to tell residents how to be prepared in case an enemy attacks.

Her enthusiasm got her appointed civil defense chairman of the Sutton Parent-Teacher Assn., then chairman for the Novato P-TA Council.

She went to county administrator D. A. Jensen, who also is county civil defense coordinator. The result is a series of five meetings which began last night, open to the public Thursdays from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Hill School.

Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol is expected at next week's session to answer questions on highway evacuation which came up last night.

With Parnow will be William G. Herrington, chief of the Marin mobile radiological trailer, who will discuss "family fallout shelters."

Speakers last night were Jensen and W. J. J. Smith, superintendent of Novato Unified School District, who told of plans for students in case of attack.

The schedule for coming workshops:

Oct. 27, "Family fallout shelters."

Nov. 3, "Family Fire Safety and Rescue," by Novato Fire Chief George Cavallero.

Nov. 10, "Family Health," by Maurice Scott, sanitarian for the county health department.

Nov. 17, "First Aid in the Home," by Gerald Van Soest, first aid chairman of the Marin Red Cross.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Peacock Gap Golf, Country Club Will Be Open To Public For Awhile

A few morning hours spent at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club the other day developed some interesting information for diners as well as for the golf-minded.

This, in case the name is still too new to have a familiar ring, is part of the Marin Bay development of Chinn Ho (Latipac, Inc.) and Louis R. Perini of Perini Land and Development Corp. who are doing things to the scenery out China Camp way that were little dreamed about 10 years ago.

Nine holes of the 18-hole course are completed and the clubhouse will be, early next month, when it opens to the public the afternoon of Nov. 5, including its restaurant. All of the country club except for the real estate for homesites is under the guidance of Roland Hess, former manager of the Monterey Golf and Country Club, himself a golf pro and long experienced in club activities.

Until next spring its status as a private club is being relaxed, and without membership the public may come here to lunch, dine, golf and get acquainted with the first stages in this 2,233-acre development.

As this is a dining column, our remarks will be confined to that phase of the overall picture which is a very lovely one indeed but too panoramic to encompass here.

Dining facilities are in the capable hands of executive chef Jean Joaquin of Fairfax, formerly of Paris, the St. Francis Yacht Club and at one time, Sabella's. As you might expect, the cuisine will have at least a touch of French to it which should please the gourmets.

The dining room seats 66, to which might be added a generous outside section of the terrace, for lunches at any rate. The cocktail lounge seats another 48 or so is to be managed by Ted Huber of Petaluma, long known to many Marinites. Hostess Marilyn Vare of San Anselmo is a newcomer to Marin. She was formerly with the White House in Minneapolis which has rated her highly.

Lunches are available every day except Monday, breakfasts Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, and dinners Saturday and Sunday evening only. The dining room is available for groups and parties other evenings; groups for golf and dining are also encouraged for Mondays—reservations, of course.

A banquet room addition to the clubhouse, not yet started, will probably materialize by spring. As its capacity will be well over 600, this facility will be a welcome step to encourage large dinner gatherings in Marin County.

YACHT DOCK, Sausalito, has a new Friday night special from the recipe collection of chef Pierre Flobert—a bouillabaisse Marseillaise made with pernod.

Lengthened dinner hours here until 10 p.m. work out much better than before, give diners a chance to listen in on Vernon Alley and Shelley Robin.

In spite of the hassle over Ondine's parking problem, maritime and leeward, there is still room for 60 cars.

ON THE CALENDAR for next Friday night is a Halloween party at Henry's Ol' Place, San Anselmo. Judging on costumes will be at 11 p.m. with prizes to be awarded for tops in originality, authenticity, comedy, overall excellence and a booby. Harry Abras will emcee the program. Dining room will service until 2 a.m. Margaret Fugere will be at the piano.

Henry's Ol' Place is now open all day Sunday, with a late breakfast served from 10 a.m.

You can sometimes catch a few strains of barbershop harmony here on Tuesday nights when members of SPBSQSA stop off after practice to do some of their homework.

MARIN FILM FARE

Film Of Inge Story Touching, Amusing

By LES DARD

A preview of the weekend film fare:

"Dark at the Top of the Stairs" (Technicolor), which opens Sunday at the Rafael Theater, San Rafael, is a sometimes touching, sometimes amusing film translation of William Inge's perceptive Broadway hit.

Robert Preston, who made such a success of "The Music Man" on stage, stars as head of the Flood family. He is a harness salesman out of a job because tin lizzies are filling the roads. Dorothy McGuire portrays his wife. And the central fact of their life is their marital unhappiness. The physical break between these two is discussed openly and on an adult level.

The other members of the family are Eve Arden, Miss McGuire's sister, who hates Catholics, Jews and female film stars in equal proportions; Shirley Knight, their daughter, a shy young thing in love with a boy of a different faith (Lee Kinsolving) and Robert Eyer, their son.

A human soul, Inge says, has its dark places, but people can help each other with love. He says it well, and so does this film.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Sons and Lovers" was probably D. H. Lawrence's greatest work, a fervent protest by an artist against the debasing life of the British mining towns. It opens Sunday on the Hub screen.

Jerry Wald, one of the brighter minds around Hollywood, has wisely permitted this story to be made into a British movie—comparable to "Room at the Top" in quality—with only one American in the cast.

Two stunning performances show up on this movie: Trevor Howard as the aging miner turned cruel by his resentment against his lot, yet capable of fleeting tenderness and laughter; Wendy Hiller (who can ever forget her performance in the filmed "Pygmalion?"), as the martyr wife struggling with her brood.

Dean Stockwell appears as Paul, whom the doting mother is determined to free from the family's grim state. Mary Ure plays the sensual Clara, the tarnished town beauty, and Heather Sears is Miriam, the sweet innocent of the tale.

Estimate: Oscar quality.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Let's Make Love" (CinemaScope, Deluxe Color) is a fast-paced comedy-romance which offers Marilyn Monroe (for the men) and Yves Montand (for the ladies). It opens Sunday in Mill Valley.

Plot? Montand is a billionaire and MM is a hoofer-singer in an off-Broadway revue which plans a lampoon of Montand's many romances.

So what does Yves do? Why he drops in to see what it's all about. One look at Marilyn and he's had it. The remainder of this romp concerns the mating game.

In the process, Milton Berle, Gene Kelly and Bing Crosby perform cameos when they're called in to teach Yves how to perform (he wants to join the show, it seems).

Tony Randoll and Frankie Vaughan, Britain's leading star, also are in the cast.

MOTOR MOVIES

"From the Terrace," in color-CinemaScope, is a truncated version of the John O'Hara best-seller. It stars Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward and opens Sunday.

Set in the post-war years, it tells of a young man (Newman) who returns home to find his mother (Myrna Loy) a hopeless drunk, his father a vicious bully. He marries a lovely but greedy girl (Woodworth).

She spurs him to fabulous success in Wall Street—and rewards him with spiteful infidelity.

He tumbles for another girl (Ina Balin), even though his wife threatens to bar this happiness. Then, in a final splurge of nobility, Newman cuts away the web that entangles his life and solves his dilemma.

NOVATO THEATER

"Strangers When We Meet" (color, wide screen) is an account of how two people drift into an affair in a plush suburb. It opens Sunday.

The participants are Kirk Douglas, as an architect somewhat bored with his wife (Barbara Rush), and Kim Novak, a beauty wed to a rather cold fish.

Douglas is working on a house for an author (Ernie Kovacs), and as the home rises, so does romance. When the place is nearly finished it's time for a decision: Douglas can break up his home or wreck Miss Novak's dreams.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Nurse" is a new British comedy which establishes, beyond a doubt, that the male animal cuts a pretty sad figure when bereft of his pants. It has been held over in Larkspur.

The men's ward of a hospital serves as the setting for this romp. There is no story as such. Rather, the audience follows the day and night antics of the patients, a zany lot at best.

The crowd enjoyed this film the night I saw it.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Bells Are Ringing," starring Judy Holliday, is one of the better film musicals of the year.

In CinmeaScope and color, it is now on the Playhouse screen.

Judy plays a switchboard girl in a phone answering service who's always soothing the subscribers, among them a playboy playwright (Dean Martin).

Fred Clark and Eddie Foy Jr. are also in this show, but they are thoroughly overshadowed by Miss Holliday.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Portrait in Black" (color), starring Lana Turner and Anthony Quinn, is a drama of illicit passions heightened by murder.

Terra Linda Murder Drama Plays Tonight

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

When the jury at the opening performance of "The Night of January 16th" acquitted Karen Andre of the murder of Bjorn Faulkner ,the judge castigated it for bringing in a verdict contrary to the evidence, and declared none of the 12 would be permitted to serve on another jury for five years.

This was especially upsetting to juror James B. McKenney. A San Rafael lawyer, McKenney doubtless figured he had taken an expert legal view of the case and found the evidence did not stand up.

The jury is drawn from the audience for the Terra Linda Little Theater's "Night of January 16th," which will be repeated tonight and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in Hoffman School multi-use room. This is just one of the touches of realism designed to give the theatergoers the feeling they are really attending a trial.

Witnesses, too, sit among the spectators until called to testify. And one—gangster Larry Reagan (Varoojan M. Agoyan)—comes dashing into the "courtroom" to interrupt the trial mid-way.

Playwright Ayn Rand reportedly based the character of Bjorn Faulkner on Swedish match king Ivar Kreuger, whose 1933 suicide bared an intricate pattern of international shenanigans.

While any resemblance to actual court proceedings is largely coincidental, "The Night of January 16th" succeeds in capturing the drama and suspense of an actual trial. The audience is kept at attention, even though some of the amateur players, directed by Richard L. Shirley (better known in his role of San Rafael Chamber of Commerce manager), overplay or underplay their parts.

The Karen Andre acquitted last weekend was Dale Beck. On trial tonight and tomorrow will be Colleen Nutt, the role having been cast double.

In the part requiring the most lines and longest-sustained appearance, Ed Fisher portrays District Attorney Flint to near-perfection. Lee Allen is somewhat less forceful as defense attorney L. A. Stevens.

The director's wife, Hortense Shirley, puts appealing pathos into her role.

If Marion Bjork and Jake Terrhal overplay a little their roles of Swedish maid and dumb cop, perhaps playwright rather than players is to be blamed. Most overplayed role is that of the judge as done by Severt Gaustad.

MURDER WEAPON — Prosecuting Attorney Flint, played by Ed Fisher of Marinwood, shows a gun to members of the jury which he contends killed Bjorn Faulkner, for which an attractive Karen Andre is on trial for her life. This scene is from Terra Linda Little Theater production of "The Night of January 16th."

'Blithe Spirit' Haunting Novato Again Two Days

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

"Blithe Spirit" "haunted" the Novato Community Club last Friday and Saturday and will do so again tonight and tomorrow night.

Noel Coward's popular farce was presented by the Novato Community Players and directed by Russ Dreosch. An appreciative audience applauded the hilarious scenes and snappy dialogue, and the small fry were completely thrilled with the table-tipping scenes.

The play got off to a slow start, but suddenly, after the first scene, it leaped into high gear.

The plot has to do with "astral" bigamy, with Scott Wright in the role of Charles Condomine. He did an excellent job.

His very-much-alive second wife, Ruth, ably handled by Sallie Paskow, goes into frightful fish-wife snits because she was not able to see or hear Elvira, the ghost.

Elvira (ghosted by Lois Wright) was something to behold.

Madame Arcati, the medium, is played by Vivienne Terry. There is a distinct aura about her of foxes, hounds, hedgerows and bicycles.

The supporting cast includes Dr. Bradman played by Dick Fuller; Maggie Feldstein as the doctor's wife and last by no means least, Grace Dolan as the little English housemaid.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Peacock Gap Golf, Country Club Will Be Open To Public For Awhile

A few morning hours spent at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club the other day developed some interesting information for diners as well as for the golf-minded.

This, in case the name is still too new to have a familiar ring, is part of the Marin Bay development of Chinn Ho (Latipac, Inc.) and Louis R. Perini of Perini Land and Development Corp. who are doing things to the scenery out China Camp way that were little dreamed about 10 years ago.

Nine holes of the 18-hole course are completed and the clubhouse will be, early next month, when it opens to the public the afternoon of Nov. 5, including its restaurant. All of the country club except for the real estate for homesites is under the guidance of Roland Hess, former manager of the Monterey Golf and Country Club, himself a golf pro and long experienced in club activities.

Until next spring its status as a private club is being relaxed, and without membership the public may come here to lunch, dine, golf and get acquainted with the first stages in this 2,233-acre development.

As this is a dining column, our remarks will be confined to that phase of the overall picture which is a very lovely one indeed but too panoramic to encompass here.

Dining facilities are in the capable hands of executive chef Jean Joaquin of Fairfax, formerly of Paris, the St. Francis Yacht Club and at one time, Sabella's. As you might expect, the cuisine will have at least a touch of French to it which should please the gourmets.

The dining room seats 66, to which might be added a generous outside section of the terrace, for lunches at any rate. The cocktail lounge seats another 48 or so is to be managed by Ted Huber of Petaluma, long known to many Marinites. Hostess Marilyn Vare of San Anselmo is a newcomer to Marin. She was formerly with the White House in Minneapolis which has rated her highly.

Lunches are available every day except Monday, breakfasts Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, and dinners Saturday and Sunday evening only. The dining room is available for groups and parties other evenings; groups for golf and dining are also encouraged for Mondays—reservations, of course.

A banquet room addition to the clubhouse, not yet started, will probably materialize by spring. As its capacity will be well over 600, this facility will be a welcome step to encourage large dinner gatherings in Marin County.

YACHT DOCK, Sausalito, has a new Friday night special from the recipe collection of chef Pierre Flobert—a bouillabaisse Marseillaise made with pernod.

Lengthened dinner hours here until 10 p.m. work out much better than before, give diners a chance to listen in on Vernon Alley and Shelley Robin.

In spite of the hassle over Ondine's parking problem, maritime and leeward, there is still room for 60 cars.

ON THE CALENDAR for next Friday night is a Halloween party at Henry's Ol' Place, San Anselmo. Judging on costumes will be at 11 p.m. with prizes to be awarded for tops in originality, authenticity, comedy, overall excellence and a booby. Harry Abras will emcee the program. Dining room will service until 2 a.m. Margaret Fugere will be at the piano.

Henry's Ol' Place is now open all day Sunday, with a late breakfast served from 10 a.m.

You can sometimes catch a few strains of barbershop harmony here on Tuesday nights when members of SPBSQSA stop off after practice to do some of their homework.

IT'S JUST NO DICE

Man Tosses Steady 7s, Wins, Loses In Court

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—How can you make your point time after time in a courtroom and still be in trouble?

Mack Allen and his three companions did it—with dice.

After watching Allen roll an endless string of sevens—the winning number, or point—in a demonstration crap game, a Peoria County Circuit Court jury yesterday found the four men innocent of robbery.

But State's Atty. Eugene Pratt, who watched the demonstration, obtained warrants charging each man with gambling, and swindling by sleight of hand.

Allen and his companions were charged with robbing Ralph McKinzie, an Indianapolis truck driver, of $70 and his watch. Allen said they won the money and watch in a crap game.

To prove this, Allen demonstrated his skills Wednesday. Rolling point after point, Allen said he could throw sevens all day long.

And to disturb the laws of probability further, Allen concluded by unerringly calling combinations of numbers and then throwing them. He would not explain how he did it. The dice, supplied by his attorney, were not inspected after the demonstration.

Allen, 32, was jailed on the gambling charge with his three companions: Donald W. Harrell, 24, Herschell Clark, 27, and Elmer K. Allison, 22.

Pratt returned the watch and $70 to McKinzie.

Jailer Says He Changed Job To Better Use His Training

Deputy Sheriff Edward McKamey, who this week switched from assistant head jailer to deputy sheriff at his own request, declared today he made the switch to make better use of his training.

"It is untrue that I requested the change to 'get rid of some of the responsibilities'," he declared.

Report that he was making the switch for that reason was given to the county board of supervisors Tuesday by County Administrator D. A. Jensen.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos agreed with McKamey. "In my letter to the board requesting the change I said he had asked to go back into the field to get more experience. I wish that letter had been read at the board meeting," the sheriff said.

He reported he had replaced McKamey as assistant head jailer with Newall Snyder, who passed the competitive examination for the job at the same time McKamey did.

"When I took the job I didn't want it," McKamey declared. "After a year I asked the sheriff to get back on patrol. I didn't like the jail job.

"I have spent a lot of money and study in scientific investigation for patrol work. I paid my own way through the California State Peace Officers' School and the Institution of Applied Sciences in Chicago. Working in jail, this money was wasted, whereas on patrol I can use this knowledge I've acquired," he said.

Tomales Trustees Discuss Land Need

Tomales Union School District trustees Tuesday night discussed the need for expansion of facilities and possibility of acquiring additional land.

Principal Floyd Billigmeier said the discussion is still in the preliminary stage and no decisions have been made. The school now has 108 students in grade 1-8. There are four classrooms combining two grades each. Grades one and two are using room in the recreation hall of the Presbyterian Church.

Billigmeier said the board hoped to acquire additional land adjacent to the school if possible. More classroom space and playground area are needed, he said.

The meeting was held Tuesday night instead of Wednesday night, as regularly scheduled.

Shall the water of the Marin Municipal Water District be converted into medicine?

Fluoridation is not the fundamental issue which the voters living in the Marin Municipal Water District are to decide in connection with Proposition B, which will appear on the November ballot. The fundamental issue is whether or not our public water system should be used as a vehicle to medically treat the people of this District.

Many persons are unaware of the vital distinction between the use of chlorine in water and the use of sodium fluoride. The distinction is this: Chlorine is placed in drinking water to treat or affect the water; that is, to purify it. Whereas fluoride is placed in drinking water to treat or affect a certain part of the human anatomy, children's teeth. Whether this is intended as a curative or a preventive measure, it is nevertheless medication!

The proponents of a similar measure, which was defeated last June by the voters of this District, admit that fluoridation is medication. In their "Argument for Fluoridation Initiative," which then officially accompanied our sample ballots, a group calling itself the "Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin County" stated that fluoridation is a "public health measure to save the teeth and improve the health of the nation." Elsewhere in this "Argument," that Committee further stated, "Fluoridation is preventive medicine."

Today we are urged to have sodium fluoride placed in our public water system upon the ground that this will benefit children's teeth. If we should open up our reservoirs for this purpose, what may we be told at some later date? Would we not thereby invite and encourage other groups (such as those who sponsor various disease campaigns) to clamor for the addition to our water of other forms and types of medicine, including drugs, upon the ground that these will benefit other parts or organs of the body? Does anyone suppose that the advocates of fluoridation will have a monopoly in the medication of our water supply? Once we establish a precedent for our water system to be used as an instrument for medical treatment, where might this ultimately lead? Unless we stop this forerunner of medical prescriptives now, our water will eventually be anything but water.

Last June some 19,000 voters living in this water district registered their objections to fluoridation. Yet the proponents of fluoridation, notwithstanding the protests of these people, many of whom regard this measure as obnoxious to them (and one which would violate the right and freedom of each one to treat his own body as he chooses) are still determined to force medical treatment upon these people and their families.

Their measure having been defeated here last June, the proponents of fluoridation have again caused a similar measure to be placed on the November ballot.

Residents of the Marin Municipal Water District have reason to be grateful for the excellent water which we have in this community. Why would we want to have the natural purity of this water adulterated by medical prescriptions? The enactment of Proposition B would deprive us of our inherent right, which we have heretofore enjoyed, of receiving pure, natural, and unadulterated water from the municipality or water district in which we reside.

It is alleged that fluoridation will benefit children within a certain age range. There are many parents of such children who do not want them to receive such medicated treatment. Shall these parents be ignored?

Those persons who wish to put sodium fluoride in their water should be able to purchase it in desired quantities at drug stores or elsewhere. Why should others be compelled to drink and bathe in medicated water, any more than they should be compelled to eat medicated food?

The real issue concerning Proposition B is not whether fluoridation can or cannot accomplish that which its advocates claim or whether sodium fluoride, when diluted in water, still is or is not a harmful poison. The real issue is whether the Marin Municipal Water system should be used as a means for compulsory medical treatment.

If all which the proponents of fluoridation claim for it were true, Proposition B should be defeated. And it should be defeated by an overwhelming majority so that its proponents would abandon their efforts to impose medical treatment upon us, contrary to the wishes of many. A similar measure was not only defeated last June by Marin voters, but was also defeated at that time by the people of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

Many dentists are uncertain as to whether fluoridation is or is not an aid to children's teeth. They regard fluoridation as a medical experiment.

If you do not want our reservoirs to be used for medical experimentation, and if you do not approve of the use of our water system as a means to enforce mass medication,

Cliff Monk's Death Is A Loss For All Of Us

Yesterday a funeral was held for Clifford W. Monk, 58, San Rafael's building inspector for the last eight years.

If Cliff Monk had picked the way he was to die, we think he would have chosen to go just the way he did, although it must have been a terrible shock to Mrs. Monk.

He loved the out of doors, hunting and similar activities. He was on such an outing to a lodge high up in Siskiyou County when he was stricken by a fatal heart attack.

We'll miss Cliff Monk around the City Hall and around the city, particularly where there is building activity. He was friendly and kind. He knew his job and wanted things done right, in fact he insisted on it. But he was both helpful and fair to anyone with a problem. He was well liked by both the builders and contractors with whom he worked and his fellow city employees. He was a good public servant.

We express our sympathy to his wife and to his brother and sister. Their loss is ours too.

A Lifetime Of Service

Fewer persons in Marin County knew Walter J. Little than knew Clifford Monk. But those of us close to state and national legislative doings knew Little and the major influences he had on many of our lives.

For 10 years, until 1934, he was a State Assemblyman, serving as Assembly Speaker in the last two of those years. Then he became the legislative representative for the railroads in Sacramento until three years ago when he moved on to Washington as lobbyist for the American Association of Railroads.

Walter Little was an able and dedicated man. His integrity was unquestioned and through a period when the word "lobbyist" took on a sinister meaning, his reputation was not in jeopardy. He authored and counseled on laws which touch practically every family in the state.

His death in Washington last week concludes a lifetime of service.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

SIXTY-TIMES AS MANY PEOPLE

The population of the United States was only 3 million when the Founding Fathers of the United States wrote the Declaration of Independence.

The urgent issues of 1776 were then uppermost in their minds. But they also wrote with an eye to the future, laying foundations, rooted in God's truth, that would endure far beyond their own times.

Less than 200 years later, Americans number close to 60 times that original count. Hundreds of millions of free men have benefited from the clear vision of that small group of statesmen who deliberated in those far-off days. It was their concern for posterity that carried them along.

You too can benefit the untold millions who will inherit our accomplishments and our failures. Take a stand for honest values in government. Don't tolerate moral, economic or political short cuts. In this way you will enhance the gift of liberty that is yours.

"The work of justice shall be peace."

Where Voice Of The Free Press Is Stilled, People Soon Wear Chains

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — "Where the voice of the free press is stilled, the people soon wear chains."

This statement was made by Gov. Edmund G. Brown at the World Newspaper Forum, held recently in Beverly Hills under the auspices of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

The statement, obviously, is something almost everybody knows. But it is a statement which cannot be repeated often enough. The governor is to be commended for again bringing the matter to the attention of the public.

GOVERNOR BROWN pointed out in his speech that friends of his sometimes scoff at "secrecy in government" as a political issue.

"They view it," he said, "with a certain skepticism, as the politician's safest means of opposing sin.

"But," he declared, "can you dismiss the lesson of Nazi Germany, Russia, Red China, of every dictatorship in history?

"To protect the rights of the people, the doors of government must be open to you. You (the press) are to be commended for your stubborn and continuing insistence on open government. Let me emphasize that in California we practice what we preach!"

GOVERNMENT IN California, of course, has a long distance to travel before it is open to the public. However, gigantic steps have been made in the past several years through the efforts of another Brown, Ralph Brown, speaker of the Assembly, whom Governor Brown commended in his speech at the World Forum.

Speaker Brown's bills in 1957 and 1959 did much to help open up public meetings to the public. Additional measures he has in mind for the 1961 session of the legislature probably will accomplish even more in spelling out the pitfalls which can engulf the public when people start maneuvering around red tape to learn something bureaucrats hope to keep secret.

BUT EVEN WITH the trend toward democratic open government, some segments of quasi-government want to shut off information to the public, even by writing a prohibition in the constitution. This is the state bar of California, which is sponsoring Proposition 10 on the November 8 ballot.

The proposition also makes the state bar a "public corporation in perpetuity," and provides that charges against judges shall not be open to the public until a judicial qualifications committee makes a finding to the state supreme court.

If passed, a judge accused of saying anything would virtually be tried and convicted before the public ever knew about the charges!

With this kind of thinking on the part of the legal profession, Governor Brown's statements concerning the free press and the opening of information to the public, appear to be happily applauding the stand against Proposition 10.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

The ferryboat Russian River went out of control with a load of cars and passengers from Marin County and crashed headon into the center of the Richmond slip. Cause was apparently a failure of the reversing gear. The vessel's prow went 25 feet into the pilings but neither cars nor passengers suffered harm.

Homestead Valley residents told the Mill Valley City Council they'd like to see their area annexed. The council members seemed to approve of the idea.

No 'Free' Gifts From Politicians

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

No politician can stand before the voters and dangle a "free service" or "gift" before them (as a lure for votes) without being guilty of distorting the truth.

Even if corporations and the whole business community could and would absorb a new or increased tax without passing it on to the ultimate consumer, the former's contribution would be tiny compared to that of the vast millions of wage and salary earners who carry the real load.

The only way to prevent further decimation of the worker's (and pensioner's) paycheck, and still be "progressive," is to rearrange the spending of the colossal tax take now imposed by all government agencies from federal to local.

Can we not assume that the American taxpayer—the most generous in civilization's history—adequately supports his government in all its necessary phases? And is not an overtaxed economy a sick one.

Suggested solution: To reexamine the whole top-heavy bureaucracy (especially federal) in the U.S. and bring it down to size—size being the real need of the people, not those of politicians and jobholders. All facets of government, armed services, agriculture, etc., are envisaged in the above premise.

Now we should grow up and into the coming years with honesty and human understanding and begin with Electronic Year 1961.

Another Side To Railroad Rerouting

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial page on Oct. 14 carried an article by Henry MacArthur regarding the location of the Western Pacific Railroad line between Oroville and Big Bend Forebay to clear the way for the construction of the Oroville Dam.

Although I realize that Mr. MacArthur was attempting to keep his article unbiased, I believe there are one or two points that should be brought out regarding this particular relocation to show that "betterment" may not be as great as would appear in the figures quoted in the article.

When Western Pacific selected the route through the Feather River canyon, it was, in their opinion, the best they could find. The tracks rise on an even grade from Oroville to Poe with little tunnel and only one major river crossing at Bidwell Bar.

On the other hand, the route now being constructed by the state involves miles of tunnel, two additional major river crossings, and a grade slightly steeper than the old route. The only "betterment" may be that the new route may be a few miles shorter than the old.

It would seem to me that to force Western Pacific to pay for this much more costly construction is not in keeping with our Constitutional guarantees of compensation for lands or goods taken by the state for the public good.

The parallel as against property not held by a public utility is not quite valid since the public utility has no choice in the matter of replacement. Western Pacific must, by law, re-establish its route. It has no choice.

It also strikes me that $15,000 is a considerable sum of money to spend to determine the fair market value of the property involved. Mr. (Assemblyman Carley) Porter could very likely have obtained as valid a figure from the State Board of Equalization at no cost. This agency works full time at establishing such figures for tax purposes on all utility-owned property.

I have no connection whatever with Western Pacific Railroad. My only interest is in fair practices for all.

Aged Work For Or Live Off Nation

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Although I might have a personal axe to grind, I also believe that my proposition has a general application. The reasoning process of my thesis is this:

1. Business enterprise professes a desire for less government, especially the cost thereof.

2. Business enterprise appears reluctant to pay for experience and consequently age (40-65) or insists on relegating and discounting these factors to the extent of preferring trainees.

3. Statistics on this age group are reported to indicate a continuing expansion in numbers.

4. How many in this age group will be looking for other employment during this period?

5. If they find discrimination on the basis of age and consequently hiring requirements in business enterprise, but acceptance of these on an equally competitive basis in government, the pressure toward employment in government will make themselves felt increasingly.

6. The principal expense of government, as any service organization is well aware, is salaries.

7. It follows that more employment in government means bigger government and the very contradiction that when business enterprise says is undesirable they are in fact encouraging if not making necessary.

8. The alternatives seem to be to either stay in one job one's entire adult working life or starve to death if you change. On the other hand, either work for government or live off of it if you can.

Does this make sense? I don't believe it.

Things You Read In A Sickbed Give A Fellow Real Warm Feeling

Having been confined to my bed for the better part of the week, at the insistence of my doctor, I find myself vaguely out of touch with what is going on in the outside world.

The last bit of news I read was on Monday when a scientist had come up with a cheap method of making A-bombs.

This is indeed encouraging, I always say, if mankind is going to blow up the world, then by all means let us do it as economically as possible.

FOR MOST of my confinement, I have stayed away from current worries and concentrated on the periodicals, a sizeable stack of which I bought as a bulwark against boredom. Also pocket books, ranging from Lady Chatterly's Lover (unexpurgated) to "The Status Civilization," an outer space thriller.

(I was quite relieved to learn, finally, that Lady Chatterly and her husband's gamekeeper, Mellors, DO walk off into the sunset together in the final pages of the book. It was a point with which I have long been concerned.)

From the pages of Pageant, I have learned all there is to know about Hitler's final hours (documented), the 10 important points to remember when attempting to pick up a nice girl, and how Jane Fonda REALLY feels about life.

THE NEW YORKER, a mainstay for any sick room, informs me that Norman Mailer was recently arrested for being drunk and disorderly in Provincetown, Mass., pleaded his own case in true Mailerese and pretty well made monkeys out of the local gendarmes.

I also learn that men's raincoats are now being lined with sable and mink and can be had for as little as $3,500, a point to remember next time I find myself coming down with a chill in wet weather.

I also browsed through Saturday Evening Post, a magazine with which I have always felt a close association since, as a small boy, I peddled it from door to door and contributed, in my small way, to its mammoth circulation. There's A Reason Why U.N. Votes Year By Year To Debate Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —Why does the U. N., year after year, vote for debate on Hungary when it is perfectly obvious that it isn't going to do anything about Hungary?

This time the vote was even higher than a year ago to bring the Soviet repression of Hungary before the General Assembly even though Premier Khrushchev in his usual literary style had warned "imperialists not to put their pig snouts into this Socialist orchard."

But what good is debate when there is no power to suit action to the words?

THERE IS AN answer to this question and it is well stated by Sir Leslie K. Munro of New Zealand, who is the special representative of the United Nations on Hungary and a former president of the General Assembly. In his answer he quotes from the late Albert Camus:

"In the face of the Hungarian tragedy, we have been and are reduced to a kind of impotence. But that impotence is not total. The rejection of the fait accompli, vigilance of heart and mind, the decision to outlaw lies, the refusal to abandon innocence even after it has been strangled — these are the lines of action we follow."

Sir Leslie adds: "The events of 1956 in Hungary have an eternal message which we forget at our peril. To forget is not to cure."

THE EVENTS of 1956 in Hungary also bear directly on nearly everything Khrushchev has said and done during the past month at this General Assembly. They cast an exposing shaft of light on Soviet purposes.

Moscow demands that the U. S. "free" Puerto Rico, whose people voted to stay within the American commonwealth, but refuses to free Hungary.

Moscow asks that the U. N. investigate itself at the Congo, but refuses to permit the U. N. to investigate at first hand the Hungarian repression.

Moscow talks about "letting the people decide," but refuses the U. N. demand that the Hungarian people be allowed to decide.

Moscow replies to criticisms of continued domination of Hungary by saying "come and see" and refuses to allow the U. N.'s special representative to come and see.

MOSCOW'S ATTITUDE toward Hungary, its "Communist orchard," provides the frankest possible expose of what Mr. K. really means by "peaceful co-existence"; his concept of "peaceful co-existence" means total interference in the free world and total immunity for the Communist world.

In their preface to the latest report on "Hungary Under Soviet Rule," Vaclovas Sidzikauskas, chairman of the Assembly of Captive Nations, and Christopher Emmet, chairman of the American Friends of the Captive Nations, offer a timely reminder that "whatever the failure of the West or of the United Nations (to act in time to save Hungary), the Hungarian revolution was a victory for freedom, not a defeat.

If the fragile, newly independent nations want to retain their independence, they will do well to remember Hungary.

Cliff Monk's Death Is A Loss For All Of Us

Yesterday a funeral was held for Clifford W. Monk, 58, San Rafael's building inspector for the last eight years.

If Cliff Monk had picked the way he was to die, we think he would have chosen to go just the way he did, although it must have been a terrible shock to Mrs. Monk.

He loved the out of doors, hunting and similar activities. He was on such an outing to a lodge high up in Siskiyou County when he was stricken by a fatal heart attack.

We'll miss Cliff Monk around the City Hall and around the city, particularly where there is building activity. He was friendly and kind. He knew his job and wanted things done right, in fact he insisted on it. But he was both helpful and fair to anyone with a problem. He was well liked by both the builders and contractors with whom he worked and his fellow city employees. He was a good public servant.

We express our sympathy to his wife and to his brother and sister. Their loss is ours too.

A Lifetime Of Service

Fewer persons in Marin County knew Walter J. Little than knew Clifford Monk. But those of us close to state and national legislative doings knew Little and the major influences he had on many of our lives.

For 10 years, until 1934, he was a State Assemblyman, serving as Assembly Speaker in the last two of those years. Then he became the legislative representative for the railroads in Sacramento until three years ago when he moved on to Washington as lobbyist for the American Association of Railroads.

Walter Little was an able and dedicated man. His integrity was unquestioned and through a period when the word "lobbyist" took on a sinister meaning, his reputation was not in jeopardy. He authored and counseled on laws which touch practically every family in the state.

His death in Washington last week concludes a lifetime of service.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

SIXTY-TIMES AS MANY PEOPLE

The population of the United States was only 3 million when the Founding Fathers of the United States wrote the Declaration of Independence.

The urgent issues of 1776 were then uppermost in their minds. But they also wrote with an eye to the future, laying foundations, rooted in God's truth, that would endure far beyond their own times.

Less than 200 years later, Americans number close to 60 times that original count. Hundreds of millions of free men have benefited from the clear vision of that small group of statesmen who deliberated in those far-off days. It was their concern for posterity that carried them along.

You too can benefit the untold millions who will inherit our accomplishments and our failures. Take a stand for honest values in government. Don't tolerate moral, economic or political short cuts. In this way you will enhance the gift of liberty that is yours.

"The work of justice shall be peace."

Where Voice Of The Free Press Is Stilled, People Soon Wear Chains

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — "Where the voice of the free press is stilled, the people soon wear chains."

This statement was made by Gov. Edmund G. Brown at the World Newspaper Forum, held recently in Beverly Hills under the auspices of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

The statement, obviously, is something almost everybody knows. But it is a statement which cannot be repeated often enough. The governor is to be commended for again bringing the matter to the attention of the public.

GOVERNOR BROWN pointed out in his speech that friends of his sometimes scoff at "secrecy in government" as a political issue.

"They view it," he said, "with a certain skepticism, as the politician's safest means of opposing sin.

"But," he declared, "can you dismiss the lesson of Nazi Germany, Russia, Red China, of every dictatorship in history?

"To protect the rights of the people, the doors of government must be open to you. You (the press) are to be commended for your stubborn and continuing insistence on open government. Let me emphasize that in California we practice what we preach!"

GOVERNMENT IN California, of course, has a long distance to travel before it is open to the public. However, gigantic steps have been made in the past several years through the efforts of another Brown, Ralph Brown, speaker of the Assembly, whom Governor Brown commended in his speech at the World Forum.

Speaker Brown's bills in 1957 and 1959 did much to help open up public meetings to the public. Additional measures he has in mind for the 1961 session of the legislature probably will accomplish even more in spelling out the pitfalls which can engulf the public when people start maneuvering around red tape to learn something bureaucrats hope to keep secret.

BUT EVEN WITH the trend toward democratic open government, some segments of quasi-government want to shut off information to the public, even by writing a prohibition in the constitution. This is the state bar of California, which is sponsoring Proposition 10 on the November 8 ballot.

The proposition also makes the state bar a "public corporation in perpetuity," and provides that charges against judges shall not be open to the public until a judicial qualifications committee makes a finding to the state supreme court.

If passed, a judge accused of saying anything would virtually be tried and convicted before the public ever knew about the charges!

With this kind of thinking on the part of the legal profession, Governor Brown's statements concerning the free press and the opening of information to the public, appear to be happily applauding the stand against Proposition 10.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

The ferryboat Russian River went out of control with a load of cars and passengers from Marin County and crashed headon into the center of the Richmond slip. Cause was apparently a failure of the reversing gear. The vessel's prow went 25 feet into the pilings but neither cars nor passengers suffered harm.

Homestead Valley residents told the Mill Valley City Council they'd like to see their area annexed. The council members seemed to approve of the idea.

No 'Free' Gifts From Politicians

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

No politician can stand before the voters and dangle a "free service" or "gift" before them (as a lure for votes) without being guilty of distorting the truth.

Even if corporations and the whole business community could and would absorb a new or increased tax without passing it on to the ultimate consumer, the former's contribution would be tiny compared to that of the vast millions of wage and salary earners who carry the real load.

The only way to prevent further decimation of the worker's (and pensioner's) paycheck, and still be "progressive," is to rearrange the spending of the colossal tax take now imposed by all government agencies from federal to local.

Can we not assume that the American taxpayer—the most generous in civilization's history—adequately supports his government in all its necessary phases? And is not an overtaxed economy a sick one.

Suggested solution: To reexamine the whole top-heavy bureaucracy (especially federal) in the U.S. and bring it down to size—size being the real need of the people, not those of politicians and jobholders. All facets of government, armed services, agriculture, etc., are envisaged in the above premise.

Now we should grow up and into the coming years with honesty and human understanding and begin with Electronic Year 1961.

Another Side To Railroad Rerouting

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial page on Oct. 14 carried an article by Henry MacArthur regarding the location of the Western Pacific Railroad line between Oroville and Big Bend Forebay to clear the way for the construction of the Oroville Dam.

Although I realize that Mr. MacArthur was attempting to keep his article unbiased, I believe there are one or two points that should be brought out regarding this particular relocation to show that "betterment" may not be as great as would appear in the figures quoted in the article.

When Western Pacific selected the route through the Feather River canyon, it was, in their opinion, the best they could find. The tracks rise on an even grade from Oroville to Poe with little tunnel and only one major river crossing at Bidwell Bar.

On the other hand, the route now being constructed by the state involves miles of tunnel, two additional major river crossings, and a grade slightly steeper than the old route. The only "betterment" may be that the new route may be a few miles shorter than the old.

It would seem to me that to force Western Pacific to pay for this much more costly construction is not in keeping with our Constitutional guarantees of compensation for lands or goods taken by the state for the public good.

The parallel as against property not held by a public utility is not quite valid since the public utility has no choice in the matter of replacement. Western Pacific must, by law, re-establish its route. It has no choice.

It also strikes me that $15,000 is a considerable sum of money to spend to determine the fair market value of the property involved. Mr. (Assemblyman Carley) Porter could very likely have obtained as valid a figure from the State Board of Equalization at no cost. This agency works full time at establishing such figures for tax purposes on all utility-owned property.

I have no connection whatever with Western Pacific Railroad. My only interest is in fair practices for all.

Aged Work For Or Live Off Nation

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Although I might have a personal axe to grind, I also believe that my proposition has a general application. The reasoning process of my thesis is this:

1. Business enterprise professes a desire for less government, especially the cost thereof.

2. Business enterprise appears reluctant to pay for experience and consequently age (40-65) or insists on relegating and discounting these factors to the extent of preferring trainees.

3. Statistics on this age group are reported to indicate a continuing expansion in numbers.

4. How many in this age group will be looking for other employment during this period?

5. If they find discrimination on the basis of age and consequently hiring requirements in business enterprise, but acceptance of these on an equally competitive basis in government, the pressure toward employment in government will make themselves felt increasingly.

6. The principal expense of government, as any service organization is well aware, is salaries.

7. It follows that more employment in government means bigger government and the very contradiction that when business enterprise says is undesirable they are in fact encouraging if not making necessary.

8. The alternatives seem to be to either stay in one job one's entire adult working life or starve to death if you change. On the other hand, either work for government or live off of it if you can.

Does this make sense? I don't believe it.

Things You Read In A Sickbed Give A Fellow Real Warm Feeling

Having been confined to my bed for the better part of the week, at the insistence of my doctor, I find myself vaguely out of touch with what is going on in the outside world.

The last bit of news I read was on Monday when a scientist had come up with a cheap method of making A-bombs.

This is indeed encouraging, I always say, if mankind is going to blow up the world, then by all means let us do it as economically as possible.

FOR MOST of my confinement, I have stayed away from current worries and concentrated on the periodicals, a sizeable stack of which I bought as a bulwark against boredom. Also pocket books, ranging from Lady Chatterly's Lover (unexpurgated) to "The Status Civilization," an outer space thriller.

(I was quite relieved to learn, finally, that Lady Chatterly and her husband's gamekeeper, Mellors, DO walk off into the sunset together in the final pages of the book. It was a point with which I have long been concerned.)

From the pages of Pageant, I have learned all there is to know about Hitler's final hours (documented), the 10 important points to remember when attempting to pick up a nice girl, and how Jane Fonda REALLY feels about life.

THE NEW YORKER, a mainstay for any sick room, informs me that Norman Mailer was recently arrested for being drunk and disorderly in Provincetown, Mass., pleaded his own case in true Mailerese and pretty well made monkeys out of the local gendarmes.

I also learn that men's raincoats are now being lined with sable and mink and can be had for as little as $3,500, a point to remember next time I find myself coming down with a chill in wet weather.

I also browsed through Saturday Evening Post, a magazine with which I have always felt a close association since, as a small boy, I peddled it from door to door and contributed, in my small way, to its mammoth circulation. From the current issue I learn that the Chicago Art Institute, my old alma mater, is still a landmark in the Windy City and the action on Rush Street is every bit as speedy as it was in my day.

The most fascinating publication I find in my bedside library, however, is a copy of the Manila (P.I.) Bulletin, a daily about the size of the Independent-Journal. How it found its way to my room I don't know, but I am grateful to the person who left it.

A GLANCE AT the movie pages assures me that our Pacific neighbors are being kept abreast of our American way of life, an important factor in our drive for worldwide friendships.

Sanitary District Lashes Planners Over Right-Of-Way

The Tiburon Sanitary District board of directors today blasted the Marin County Planning Commission for "lack of consideration in the interests of local taxpayers" in its demand that the district acquire a 250-foot length of Mar West street for development to county standards.

"The cost of planning and development of Northwestern Pacific railroad property should be paid by those who will directly benefit, the future developers and owners," District Secretary Robert A. Sterling said.

He argued that the entire county should participate in the costs of condemnation and improvement, "not just the Tiburon district's taxpayers."

The planning commission ordered the district to provide a 40-foot right-of-way on Mar West when it expands the treatment plant to handle sewage from the city of Belvedere. A decision by the board of supervisors has been postponed to 2:30 p.m., next Tuesday.

"The existing road is not up to county standards in any way and is only a 22-24 foot paved strip with dirt shoulders," Sterling said. "Why should the district develop to a county standard of 40 feet a 250-foot length of road whose exact legal location is not even known?"

He said a petition protesting the planning commission's demand would be circulated among district property owners.

Crash Suit Seeks Damage Of $400,000

Walter L. Hale of Santa Venetia, who operates doughnut and coffee catering wagons in the county, filed a $400,000 damage suit against United Ambulance yesterday for injuries allegedly suffered in an ambulance crash a year ago.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court by attorney Natalie Holly and Dan Garrett Jr., says Hale was permanently crippled when the ambulance crashed broadside with another car on Nov. 1 of last year.

Hale says he was driving home when his car hit a tree. He suffered only minor knee and ankle injuries, but an ambulance was called, according to attorney Holly. The ambulance, headed south on Highway 101 toward Marin General, crashed with a car just south of the San Quentin overpass.

The second accident fractured his left leg, broke his ribs, and injured him severely, Hale contends.

NIXON, KENNEDY DEBATED IN 1947 ON LABOR BILL—ONLY 100 PRESENT

McKEESPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy once debated here before an audience of only 100, rather than a nation-wide television audience.

The debate was staged on April 21, 1947, by the McKeesport Junto, a public affairs group. The Republican and Democratic presidential candidates were then both freshman congressman.

The subject was the Hartley Bill, later enacted as the Taft-Hartley Act, regulating labor unions.

A report of the debate quotes Nixon as saying, "the public was satisfied with labor on V-J Day, but in the years since we have seen a shift in public opinion."

He also said legislation had been passed restricting management but not unions.

Kennedy contended passage of the Hartley Bill would "fire the first shot in the war to end labor peace."

12-Member Jury Convicts Painter Of Drunk Driving

A jury of four men and eight women deliberated for about 20 minutes yesterday and found painter James Joseph Carney, 34, of Corte Madera guilty of drunken driving.

This was the first jury case heard before new Judge Joseph G. Wilson since he took over the municipal bench on Monday.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth, prosecutor, presented evidence to convince the jurors that Carney was driving while intoxicated along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo on Sept. 12. Carney lives at 59 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera.

This was also the first case in Marin in which the prosecutor suggested that a six-man jury instead of 12 hear the case to speed up the trial. However, Carney and his attorney held out for a 12-member jury.

Judge Wilson set 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday as time for sentencing Carney.

Children's Book Week Scheduled Nov. 13-19

Marin County libraries are preparing for new book displays, story hours, posters and even special cookie treats in observance of annual Children's Book Week, Nov. 13-19.

Both the county library and its branches and the various city libraries are already making plans though some details may be added, the librarians said.

Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian, said arrangements have been made for a sort of preview through an Oct. 28 Halloween program of ghost stories to be told next Friday by Mrs. Rosalie Brown, Fairfax poet and author of children's books.

The main county library in San Rafael and its branches will observe the week with displays of posters and of the newest in children's books, Mrs. Keating said.

San Rafael's city library plans displays in both the children's library and the exhibit room.

Sausalito librarian Mabel Wosser said she plans a special story hour Nov. 17 at 3:30 p.m., as well as a special exhibit of the newest in children's books.

Success of efforts to interest Sausalito children in reading is shown, she said, by a 622 increase in juvenile circulation last year as compared with the previous year.

Mill Valley's city library is planning to have visit from classes in the schools, according to Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, librarian. She said that Mrs. Margo Farnsworth, in charge of the children's books, has laid special plans to entertain the children, and cookies will be served.

"There will be a large display of new books for children and parents ought to take this chance to select Christmas gifts," said Mrs. Thomas.

Sanitary District Lashes Planners Over Right-Of-Way

The Tiburon Sanitary District board of directors today blasted the Marin County Planning Commission for "lack of consideration in the interests of local taxpayers" in its demand that the district acquire a 250-foot length of Mar West street for development to county standards.

"The cost of planning and development of Northwestern Pacific railroad property should be paid by those who will directly benefit, the future developers and owners," District Secretary Robert A. Sterling said.

He argued that the entire county should participate in the costs of condemnation and improvement, "not just the Tiburon district's taxpayers."

The planning commission ordered the district to provide a 40-foot right-of-way on Mar West when it expands the treatment plant to handle sewage from the city of Belvedere. A decision by the board of supervisors has been postponed to 2:30 p.m., next Tuesday.

"The existing road is not up to county standards in any way and is only a 22-24 foot paved strip with dirt shoulders," Sterling said. "Why should the district develop to a county standard of 40 feet a 250-foot length of road whose exact legal location is not even known?"

He said a petition protesting the planning commission's demand would be circulated among district property owners.

Crash Suit Seeks Damage Of $400,000

Walter L. Hale of Santa Venetia, who operates doughnut and coffee catering wagons in the county, filed a $400,000 damage suit against United Ambulance yesterday for injuries allegedly suffered in an ambulance crash a year ago.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court by attorney Natalie Holly and Dan Garrett Jr., says Hale was permanently crippled when the ambulance crashed broadside with another car on Nov. 1 of last year.

Hale says he was driving home when his car hit a tree. He suffered only minor knee and ankle injuries, but an ambulance was called, according to attorney Holly. The ambulance, headed south on Highway 101 toward Marin General, crashed with a car just south of the San Quentin overpass.

The second accident fractured his left leg, broke his ribs, and injured him severely, Hale contends.

8-Unit Apartment Building Planned In Corte Madera

Twenty-four building permits for construction valued at a total of $244,632 were issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department last week. Included is a permit for a $50,000 eight-unit apartment house to be built for Marin Gardens, Inc., at 1441 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera.

NIXON, KENNEDY DEBATED IN 1947 ON LABOR BILL—ONLY 100 PRESENT

McKEESPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy once debated here before an audience of only 100, rather than a nation-wide television audience.

The debate was staged on April 21, 1947, by the McKeesport Junto, a public affairs group. The Republican and Democratic presidential candidates were then both freshman congressman.

The subject was the Hartley Bill, later enacted as the Taft-Hartley Act, regulating labor unions.

A report of the debate quotes Nixon as saying, "the public was satisfied with labor on V-J Day, but in the years since we have seen a shift in public opinion."

He also said legislation had been passed restricting management but not unions.

Kennedy contended passage of the Hartley Bill would "fire the first shot in the war to end labor peace."

12-Member Jury Convicts Painter Of Drunk Driving

A jury of four men and eight women deliberated for about 20 minutes yesterday and found painter James Joseph Carney, 34, of Corte Madera guilty of drunken driving.

This was the first jury case heard before new Judge Joseph G. Wilson since he took over the municipal bench on Monday.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth, prosecutor, presented evidence to convince the jurors that Carney was driving while intoxicated along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo on Sept. 12. Carney lives at 59 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera.

This was also the first case in Marin in which the prosecutor suggested that a six-man jury instead of 12 hear the case to speed up the trial. However, Carney and his attorney held out for a 12-member jury.

Judge Wilson set 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday as time for sentencing Carney.

Children's Book Week Scheduled Nov. 13-19

Marin County libraries are preparing for new book displays, story hours, posters and even special cookie treats in observance of annual Children's Book Week, Nov. 13-19.

Both the county library and its branches and the various city libraries are already making plans though some details may be added, the librarians said.

Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian, said arrangements have been made for a sort of preview through an Oct. 28 Halloween program of ghost stories to be told next Friday by Mrs. Rosalie Brown, Fairfax poet and author of children's books.

The main county library in San Rafael and its branches will observe the week with displays of posters and of the newest in children's books, Mrs. Keating said.

San Rafael's city library plans displays in both the children's library and the exhibit room.

Sausalito librarian Mabel Wosser said she plans a special story hour Nov. 17 at 3:30 p.m., as well as a special exhibit of the newest in children's books.

Success of efforts to interest Sausalito children in reading is shown, she said, by a 622 increase in juvenile circulation last year as compared with the previous year.

Mill Valley's city library is planning to have visit from classes in the schools, according to Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, librarian. She said that Mrs. Margo Farnsworth, in charge of the children's books, has laid special plans to entertain the children, and cookies will be served.

"There will be a large display of new books for children and parents ought to take this chance to select Christmas gifts," said Mrs. Thomas.

Bay Area Football In Sad Shape And Could Get Worse In Future

CONNOLLY

Halloween is over a week away, but already the Bay Area football scene looks like a convention of hobgoblins, banshees and malevolent little people. Let's take a peek through the keyhole.

In professional kickball, the Oakland Raiders are boasting a moral victory with a .500 average, having won three and lost three. This is a good record for a team that was picked to lose most of its games, but the victories have come at the cost of a heart attack for assistant coach Ernie Jorge and a brand new set of ulcers for headman Eddie Erdelatz.

In the National pro league, the San Francisco 49ers also are clinging to a 50-50 average. The two losses could have been wins and the two wins could have been losses, so I guess everything evens out as it should be. However, Coach Red Hickey can't help thinking of what might have been.

In the opener against the New York Giants the 49ers missed scoring opportunities and lost by a measly two points. In last Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears the locals ran off 83 offensive plays to the Bears' 35—which means almost total game control—and still lost by the outrageous score of 27 to 10. No wonder Hickey was holding his head in his hands.

MEANWHILE, down on the Farm, the Stanford Indians have lost five straight this year without too much effort. Both students and alumni are grumbling, and Coach Cactus Jack Curtice has been hung in effigy on the campus. The story is that Curtice was brought to Stanford to build up characters and the only characters he has built up are opponents of the little Red Machine.

Over at Berkeley the U. of California can claim superiority over their Stanford rivals because they have one tie to go with their four losses. But they are not going around bragging about it. Coach Marv Levy is another capable character builder who was brought to the Blue and Golders to prove that scholars can play football, too.

SO FAR the gentlemanly Mr. Levi's Phi Beta Kappa key has failed to open the football doors and he is showing signs of being cast of the same mortal clay as the rest of us. He is beginning to growl. Both Curtice and Levy are doing the best they can with what they have, but I'll bet the grass is looking greener all the time back where they came from.

Moose Myers and the College of Pacific are apparently on their last legs up Stockton way. About the only happy teams in the whole area are San Francisco State of the Far West Conference under Joe Verducci, and such teams as Santa Clara and the University of San Francisco. Veducci is going out in a blaze of glory after an endless string of successful years. The others are playing an intramural type of collegiate football where they have fun whether or not they win.

THE PAST is a bit gloomy and the future could be worse. The 49ers go against a red hot and rested Green Bay Packers this Sunday at Milwaukee. This is a "must" game for the 49ers. The activiation of sprinter Ray Norton may be a help, but it would be a near miracle if this rookie could swing the balance in his first game.

The up and coming Raiders could give Erdelatz the best kind of a pill with a win over Buffalo, and they should be able to pull it out. The Raiders are beginning to show lasting qualities in the final quarter, and their offense can move the ball.

Stanford and California? Any one for touch tackle?

Houk Tells Plans As Yank Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Houk was a disciple of the "Old Perfessor," but he is going to run the New York Yankees his own way.

The self-assured former Army Ranger major made that plain yesterday shortly after he was named to succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the American League champions.

"Casey was a great manager," said Houk, 41, a coach under Stengel. "I learned a lot from him and I hope some of his knowledge rubbed off on me. But that doesn't necessarily mean I'm going to operate in every respect the way he did."

The statement was made in reply to a question of whether he planned to continue Stengel's patented two-platoon system as well as the constant parade of pinch-hitters, pinch runners and defensive changes.

"I won't two-platoon just for two-platoon sake," Houk said. "I have to operate the way I see fit. I don't feel I have to change my line-up every day, either. It all depends on the material I have on hand and on the opposing pitchers."

$35,000 SALARY

Houk, who never was more than a third-string catcher in eight years as a player with the Yankees, was signed for a reported $35,000 a year, less than half the $85,000 paid Stengel. The contract—at his request—was limited to a single year.

"If my employers aren't satisfied with the work I've done after my first year, then I don't want to be back the following year," he said.

"Furthermore, I was told I'd have complete authority. That's the way it's got to be. You can discount any talk of front office interference. Four your information, I'm no 'yes man' and I'm sure they don't want a 'yes man.' To my knowledge there never has been any front office interference.

"I intend to run the ball club my way. I intend to make all the decisions. I'll decide who will play and nobody else. You can rest assured that's the way I'll manage."

Houk, a sturdy, pleasant-faced father of three, is a rugged, cigar-smoking, tobacco-chewing fellow who won a Silver Star for distinguished service with the Rangers during World War II.

He rose from private to the rank of major with the 83th reconnaissance group. He was in one of the first waves to hit Normandy beach on D-Day.

Houk's previous managerial experience was at Denver in the American Association, where he led the Bears to a third place finish and two second place finishes in three years. He was brought back to the Yankees as a coach in 1958.

S.R. Cage League To Be Organized

Organizational meetings for San Rafael Adult Basketball Leagues will be held next week at Albert Field, the Parks and Recreation Department announced today.

Organization of "A" and "B" class leagues will be done Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. while a "C" Class league will be formed Thursday, same time and place.

Anyone interested in entering the leagues should contact the Recreation Department. Dennis Sullivan is in charge.

CASEY OFFERED TV ROLE AS 'DESERT RAT'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Casey Stengel, deposed manager of the New York Yankees, got an offer today to become a heavy in a TV series.

TV star Chuck Connors, one-time first baseman with the Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs, sent the following wire to Stengel:

"Would you accept role with me in my 'Rifleman' series? Have part I feel you would like to do — would have fun doing. After all, baseball and acting go hand in hand."

Connors said the script calls for "a nasty desert rat."

"It's a role that could go through the whole series—an actor's dream. Casey is a grand old man with a great face. He would be perfect."

Redwood Favored To Top Bulldogs Tonight

Redwood High's Giants, who have never lost a Marin Athletic League football game, are favored to advance over another local opponent tonight when they tackle the San Rafael Bulldogs at San Rafael, 8 o'clock.

Fresh off their come-from-behind 19-14 victory over Novato last week, the Giants will be in top physical condition for their second league game of the season. Last year they were undefeated in the league's first season.

San Rafael lost its league opener last week to Tamalpais and is generally rated for a second division finish. However Coach Bob Troppman warns his team, "This is one of the best balanced leagues I've ever seen. There should be some upsets, so be on guard."

In their practice schedule San Rafael has two wins, one loss and a tie. Redwood's practice mark was two losses and two wins.

Key men in Giant togs are halfback Mike Alessio, quarterback Roger Siemens and tackle Mike Hoffman. A swift and deceptive backfield and a hard and quick-hitting line feature the well-drilled Giants' attack.

San Rafael is expected to get full-time duty for its leading ball packer, explosive Billy Roberts, who has recovered from an injury that limited his action last week. Poised Jack Sovereign direct San Rafael's T-formation.

Hoffman, a three-year varsity first stringer, and Alessio will co-captain the Giants. Their starting lineup will include ends Herb Schrieber and John Whitney, tackles Jon Keppel and Hoffman, guards Ralph Wood and Buddy Weckel, center Mike Walsh and Siemens. Alessio, Ned Griffith and Keith Norton in the backfield.

Coach Dick Read of San Rafael gave this probable lineup: Roberts, Sovereign, fullback Alan Finney and wingback Gary Ledson in the backfield, Randy Petrini and Bruce McPahil, ends, Chris Yaeger and Warren Nickel tackles, Paul Regalia and Don Burrows guards and George Bullis center.

Read told his team, "to beat Redwood you have to put together a complete game. And you can't make any mistakes because they (the Giants) will ram them down your throats."

Tamites Win Cage Tilt In Overtime

Tamalpais High School Class C basketball team won its seventh straight game yesterday, but it had to go into double overtime to nip the Redwood Giants, 26-25 at Tam's gym.

Max Land scored the winning point on a foul shot near the end of the second overtime. Hillard Witt's foul shot in the first overtime enabled Redwood to tie up the contest at 25 all. The regulation game ended in a 23-23 deadlock.

Fred Harris led Tam with 11 points and Witt topped the Giants with 8.

Thriller Expected Tomorrow In Novato-Drake Grid Clash

Another outstanding struggle in the Marin Athletic League's exciting football lineup is expected to take shape tomorrow afternoon on the Kentfield gridiron where Novato and Drake, two of the pre-season favorites, clash at 2 o'clock.

Their spirits and bodies bruised by last week's tough 14-19 loss to Redwood, the Novato Hornets will be fired up to get back on the championship trail they had been expected to follow. Drake comes into the game with a victory over Marin Catholic under its belt.

It may have been a very costly victory, however, because the Pirates lost the services of star halfback Steve Blair for the rest of the season with a broken ankle and first string guard Lloyd Stasiowski for this game with a shoulder injury.

'INFIRMARY BLUES'

Drake's injuries, however, are mild compared to Novato's sick list which may have tempted the student body to change its fight song to the "Infirmary Blues."

Knocked out of action for the season last week were first string halfback John Picchi (broken arm) and tackle Bob Lance (broken leg). Center Jim Shears banged his knee and is doubtful; end Lu Haas is still hobbled with an ankle injury and is not expected to play tomorrow; and wingback Fred McElroy is still ailing with a groin injury and can't run too well.

Earlier in the year the Hornets lost two guards, Marshall Taylor and Morris Rush.

Besides those miseries the club is limping around with an assortment of bruises.

Nevertheless, Coach Marlin Olsen said he will have enough men to field a lineup and listed this starting unit: ends Paul Ferrarese and Ron Grayson, tackles John Cook and Tom Watkins, guards Bob Remley and Jim Sewell, center Mike Milano, quarterback Bob Sparrow, fullback Bill Henderson, halfback Dennis McCormick and wing back Bill Hall.

Olsen said Watkins was promoted to the first string off an outstanding performance against Redwood. Films also showed great performances by the pair of ends.

Drake's lineup will start with Sam Johnson quarterback, Scott Moriarty fullback, Mike Bresnan and Rich Bottini halfbacks. Up front it will be ends Bill Collins and Gary Schlueter, tackles Bob Whelan and Kelly Scott, guards Jack Wisler and Ron Piaszk and center Dale Thompason.

Drake and Novato will play a junior varsity game tomorrow morning at 11:45 o'clock.

Parilli Pressing Flores For No. 1 Quarterback Post

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Competition is getting tougher among the up and coming Oakland Raiders.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz says Tom Flores, one of the American Football League's sharpest quarterbacks, had better be on the mark Sunday when the Raiders face the Buffalo Bills here.

Babe Parilli will take over at quarterback if Flores' passing is off, Erdelatz said.

"I don't believe in alternating men by games," Erdelatz said. "I think it's far better to have one as a regular starter—in this case Flores—with the other ready to take over without hesitation."

Hamilton Golfer Wins Tournament

Capt. Leon Caplan of the 631st Reserve Hospital at Hamilton Air Force Base, has taken top honors in the Continental Air Command Golf Championships in New York.

He later traveled to the Air Force World-Wide Tournament at Randolph AFB, Texas, where he was in contention for the first two days, but soared to a disasterious 92 the third day when water hazards and penalty strokes forced him out of the running.

Caplan is a member of the Hamilton golf team. He is from Novato.

Novato Picked Over Drake; Redwood, Tam Also Tabbed

By JIM GILMARTIN

Here are this week's football forecasts for those who like to play the guessing game. Our record to date is 40 correct and 15 misses.

On the local scene the toughest to figure is Novato High against Drake. In pre-season we picked Novato to win the title, so we'll stick with the Hornets to win by 6 points.

In the other local prep games Redwood looks about 19 points better than San Rafael while Tam should edge Marin Catholic by a point.

The college scene: Oregon to shade California by two points; UCLA to blitz Stanford by 27; Washington over Oregon State by 10; Washington State over College of Pacific by 14; and Yuba over Marin by 20.

The professionals, always tough to pick, are a puzzle again this week. We have to go along with the rested and healthy Green Bay Packers over the 49ers by 3 points and the Buffalo Bills to trip the Oakland Raiders by 7.

Bay Area Football In Sad Shape And Could Get Worse In Future

CONNOLLY

Halloween is over a week away, but already the Bay Area football scene looks like a convention of hobgoblins, banshees and malevolent little people. Let's take a peek through the keyhole.

In professional kickball, the Oakland Raiders are boasting a moral victory with a .500 average, having won three and lost three. This is a good record for a team that was picked to lose most of its games, but the victories have come at the cost of a heart attack for assistant coach Ernie Jorge and a brand new set of ulcers for headman Eddie Erdelatz.

In the National pro league, the San Francisco 49ers also are clinging to a 50-50 average. The two losses could have been wins and the two wins could have been losses, so I guess everything evens out as it should be. However, Coach Red Hickey can't help thinking of what might have been.

In the opener against the New York Giants the 49ers missed scoring opportunities and lost by a measly two points. In last Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears the locals ran off 83 offensive plays to the Bears' 35—which means almost total game control—and still lost by the outrageous score of 27 to 10. No wonder Hickey was holding his head in his hands.

MEANWHILE, down on the Farm, the Stanford Indians have lost five straight this year without too much effort. Both students and alumni are grumbling, and Coach Cactus Jack Curtice has been hung in effigy on the campus. The story is that Curtice was brought to Stanford to build up characters and the only characters he has built up are opponents of the little Red Machine.

Over at Berkeley the U. of California can claim superiority over their Stanford rivals because they have one tie to go with their four losses. But they are not going around bragging about it. Coach Marv Levy is another capable character builder who was brought to the Blue and Golders to prove that scholars can play football, too.

SO FAR the gentlemanly Mr. Levi's Phi Beta Kappa key has failed to open the football doors and he is showing signs of being cast of the same mortal clay as the rest of us. He is beginning to growl. Both Curtice and Levy are doing the best they can with what they have, but I'll bet the grass is looking greener all the time back where they came from.

Moose Myers and the College of Pacific are apparently on their last legs up Stockton way. About the only happy teams in the whole area are San Francisco State of the Far West Conference under Joe Verducci, and such teams as Santa Clara and the University of San Francisco. Veducci is going out in a blaze of glory after an endless string of successful years. The others are playing an intramural type of collegiate football where they have fun whether or not they win.

THE PAST is a bit gloomy and the future could be worse. The 49ers go against a red hot and rested Green Bay Packers this Sunday at Milwaukee. This is a "must" game for the 49ers. The activiation of sprinter Ray Norton may be a help, but it would be a near miracle if this rookie could swing the balance in his first game.

The up and coming Raiders could give Erdelatz the best kind of a pill with a win over Buffalo, and they should be able to pull it out. The Raiders are beginning to show lasting qualities in the final quarter, and their offense can move the ball.

Stanford and California? Any one for touch tackle?

Houk Tells Plans As Yank Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Houk was a disciple of the "Old Perfessor," but he is going to run the New York Yankees his own way.

The self-assured former Army Ranger major made that plain yesterday shortly after he was named to succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the American League champions.

"Casey was a great manager," said Houk, 41, a coach under Stengel. "I learned a lot from him and I hope some of his knowledge rubbed off on me. But that doesn't necessarily mean I'm going to operate in every respect the way he did."

The statement was made in reply to a question of whether he planned to continue Stengel's patented two-platoon system as well as the constant parade of pinch-hitters, pinch runners and defensive changes.

"I won't two-platoon just for two-platoon sake," Houk said. "I have to operate the way I see fit. I don't feel I have to change my line-up every day, either. It all depends on the material I have on hand and on the opposing pitchers."

$35,000 SALARY

Houk, who never was more than a third-string catcher in eight years as a player with the Yankees, was signed for a reported $35,000 a year, less than half the $85,000 paid Stengel. The contract—at his request—was limited to a single year.

"If my employers aren't satisfied with the work I've done after my first year, then I don't want to be back the following year," he said.

"Furthermore, I was told I'd have complete authority. That's the way it's got to be. You can discount any talk of front office interference. Four your information, I'm no 'yes man' and I'm sure they don't want a 'yes man.' To my knowledge there never has been any front office interference.

"I intend to run the ball club my way. I intend to make all the decisions. I'll decide who will play and nobody else. You can rest assured that's the way I'll manage."

Houk, a sturdy, pleasant-faced father of three, is a rugged, cigar-smoking, tobacco-chewing fellow who won a Silver Star for distinguished service with the Rangers during World War II.

He rose from private to the rank of major with the 89th reconnaissance group. He was in one of the first waves to hit Normandy beach on D-Day.

Houk's previous managerial experience was at Denver in the American Association, where he led the Bears to a third place finish and two second place finishes in three years. He was brought back to the Yankees as a coach in 1958.

S.R. Cage League To Be Organized

Organizational meetings for San Rafael Adult Basketball Leagues will be held next week at Albert Field, the Parks and Recreation Department announced today.

Organization of "A" and "B" class leagues will be done Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. while a "C" Class league will be formed Thursday, same time and place.

Anyone interested in entering the leagues should contact the Recreation Department. Dennis Sullivan is in charge.

Redwood Favored To Top Bulldogs Tonight

Redwood High's Giants, who have never lost a Marin Athletic League football game, are favored to advance over another local opponent tonight when they tackle the San Rafael Bulldogs at San Rafael, 8 o'clock.

Fresh off their come-from-behind 19-14 victory over Novato last week, the Giants will be in top physical condition for their second league game of the season. Last year they were undefeated in the league's first season.

San Rafael lost its league opener last week to Tamalpais and is generally rated for a second division finish. However Coach Bob Troppman warns his team, "This is one of the best balanced leagues I've ever seen. There should be some upsets, so be on guard."

In their practice schedule San Rafael has two wins, one loss and a tie. Redwood's practice mark was two losses and two wins.

Key men in Giant togs are halfback Mike Alessio, quarterback Roger Siemens and tackle Mike Hoffman. A swift and deceptive backfield and a hard and quick-hitting line feature the well-drilled Giants' attack.

San Rafael is expected to get full-time duty for its leading ball packer, explosive Billy Roberts, who has recovered from an injury that limited his action last week. Poised Jack Sovereign direct San Rafael's T-formation.

Hoffman, a three-year varsity first stringer, and Alessio will co-captain the Giants. Their starting lineup will include ends Herb Schrieber and John Whitney, tackles Jon Keppel and Hoffman, guards Ralph Wood and Buddy Weckel, center Mike Walsh and Siemens, Alessio, Ned Griffith and Keith Norton in the backfield.

Coach Dick Read of San Rafael gave this probable lineup: Roberts, Sovereign, fullback Alan Finney and wingback Gary Ledson in the backfield, Randy Petrini and Bruce McPahil, ends, Chris Yaeger and Warren Nickel tackles, Paul Regalia and Don Burrows guards and George Bullis center.

Read told his team, "to beat Redwood you have to put together a complete game. And you can't make any mistakes because they (the Giants) will ram them down your throats."

CASEY OFFERED TV ROLE AS 'DESERT RAT'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Casey Stengel, deposed manager of the New York Yankees, got an offer today to become a heavy in a TV series.

TV star Chuck Connors, one-time first baseman with the Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs, sent the following wire to Stengel:

"Would you accept role with me in my 'Rifleman' series? Have part I feel you would like to do — would have fun doing. After all, baseball and acting go hand in hand."

Connors said the script calls for "a nasty desert rat."

"It's a role that could go through the whole series—an actor's dream. Casey is a grand old man with a great face. He would be perfect."

Tamites Win Cage Tilt In Overtime

Tamalpais High School Class C basketball team won its seventh straight game yesterday, but it had to go into double overtime to nip the Redwood Giants, 26-25 at Tam's gym.

Max Land scored the winning point on a foul shot near the end of the second overtime. Hillard Witt's foul shot in the first overtime enabled Redwood to tie up the contest at 25 all. The regulation game ended in a 23-23 deadlock.

Fred Harris led Tam with 11 points and Witt topped the Giants with 8.

Thriller Expected Tomorrow In Novato-Drake Grid Clash

Another outstanding struggle in the Marin Athletic League's exciting football lineup is expected to take shape tomorrow afternoon on the Kentfield gridiron where Novato and Drake, two of the pre-season favorites, clash at 2 o'clock.

Their spirits and bodies bruised by last week's tough 14-19 loss to Redwood, the Novato Hornets will be fired up to get back on the championship trail they had been expected to follow. Drake comes into the game with a victory over Marin Catholic under its belt.

It may have been a very costly victory, however, because the Pirates lost the services of star halfback Steve Blair for the rest of the season with a broken ankle and first string guard Lloyd Stasiowski for this game with a shoulder injury.

'INFIRMARY BLUES'

Drake's injuries, however, are mild compared to Novato's sick list which may have tempted the student body to change its fight song to the "Infirmary Blues."

Knocked out of action for the season last week were first string halfback John Picchi (broken arm) and tackle Bob Lance (broken leg). Center Jim Shears banged his knee and is doubtful; end Lu Haas is still hobbled with an ankle injury and is not expected to play tomorrow; and wingback Fred McElroy is still ailing with a groin injury and can't run too well.

Earlier in the year the Hornets lost two guards, Marshall Taylor and Morris Rush.

Besides those miseries the club is limping around with an assortment of bruises.

Nevertheless, Coach Marlin Olsen said he will have enough men to field a lineup and listed this starting unit: ends Paul Ferrarese and Ron Grayson, tackles John Cook and Tom Watkins, guards Bob Remley and Jim Sewell, center Mike Milano, quarterback Bob Sparrow, fullback Bill Henderson, halfback Dennis McCormick and wing back Bill Hall.

Olsen said Watkins was promoted to the first string off an outstanding performance against Redwood. Films also showed great performances by the pair of ends.

Drake's lineup will start with Sam Johnson quarterback, Scott Moriarty fullback, Mike Bresnan and Rich Bottini halfbacks. Up front it will be ends Bill Collins and Gary Schlueter, tackles Bob Whelan and Kelly Scott, guards Jack Wisler and Ron Piaszk and center Dale Thompason.

Drake and Novato will play a junior varsity game tomorrow morning at 11:45 o'clock.

Parilli Pressing Flores For No. 1 Quarterback Post

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Competition is getting tougher among the up and coming Oakland Raiders.

Coach Eddie Erdelatz says Tom Flores, one of the American Football League's sharpest quarterbacks, had better be on the mark Sunday when the Raiders face the Buffalo Bills here.

Babe Parilli will take over at quarterback if Flores' passing is off, Erdelatz said.

"I don't believe in alternating men by games," Erdelatz said. "I think it's far better to have one as a regular starter —in this case Flores—with the other ready to take over without hesitation."

Hamilton Golfer Wins Tournament

Capt. Leon Caplan of the 631st Reserve Hospital at Hamilton Air Force Base, has taken top honors in the Continental Air Command Golf Championships in New York.

He later traveled to the Air Force World-Wide Tournament at Randolph AFB, Texas, where he was in contention for the first two days, but soared to a disasterious 92 the third day when water hazards and penalty strokes forced him out of the running.

Caplan is a member of the Hamilton golf team. He is from Novato.

Novato Picked Over Drake; Redwood, Tam Also Tabbed

By JIM GILMARTIN

Here are this week's football forecasts for those who like to play the guessing game. Our record to date is 40 correct and 15 misses.

On the local scene the toughest to figure is Novato High against Drake. In pre-season we picked Novato to win the title, so we'll stick with the Hornets to win by 6 points.

In the other local prep games Redwood looks about 19 points better than San Rafael while Tam should edge Marin Catholic by a point.

The college scene: Oregon to shade California by two points; UCLA to blitz Stanford by 27; Washington over Oregon State by 10; Washington State over College of Pacific by 14; and Yuba over Marin by 20.

The professionals, always tough to pick, are a puzzle again this week. We have to go along with the rested and healthy Green Bay Packers over the 49ers by 3 points and the Buffalo Bills to trip the Oakland Raiders by 7.

Packers Rarin' To Battle 49ers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, healthy and rarin' to go after a schedule break which cost them a share of the Western Division lead, resume National Football League warfare against the San Francisco 49ers here Sunday.

While hoping to pick up where they left off in a 35-21 victory over the champion Baltimore Colts two weeks ago, the Packers will be shooting to break a four-year jinx in the first of their two annual games in Milwaukee.

In their home-away-from-home games at Milwaukee, the Packers have dropped eight straight since they administered a 42-17 loss to the Los Angeles Rams Oct. 21, 1956. They were beaten 45-6 by the Rams and 28-24 by the Colts in two Milwaukee appearances last year.

Green Bay, which has won its last two starts after an opening loss to Chicago, fell a half game behind the Bears and the Colts, who upped their marks to 3-1 last Sunday while the Packers had an open date.

A victory over the 49ers appears a must for the Packers to maintain pace with the co-leaders. While Green Bay meets San Francisco, the Bears play Los Angeles, beaten four straight times, and the Colts encounter Detroit, winless in three outings.

The 49ers hope to rebound from a humiliating loss to the Bears. San Francisco outplayed Chicago all the way last Sunday but dropped a 27-10 decision as the Bears scored three times on plays covering 91, 61 and 37 yards.

The defeat left the 49ers with a 2-2 mark. They fully realize another loss could prove fatal at this stage of the season.

"They'll be desperate," said Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi. "Having lost two games, they can't afford to lose this one and stay in the race."

"I've got a feeling that this will be a rock 'em, sock 'em game," the coach said. "We'd better be ready to play hard-nose football."

The Packers have spent plenty of time in practice the past two weeks trying to improve their passing attack. They rely mainly on their powerful running game led by Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung.

Taylor, a third-year fullback from Louisiana State, leads the NFL in rushing with 281 yards and is tied for fourth in scoring with 30 points. Hornung, the league scoring champion last year, has 29 points.

The 49ers have a top-flight aerial attack with either Y. A. Tittle or John Brodie doing the throwing. Their outstanding runners are Hugh McElhenny and J. D. Smith.

A near capacity crowd of some 40,000 is expected.

Bears Face Speed Of Fleet Oregon Backs

Can California's Bears cope with the speed of the Oregon Ducks?

That poses the big question tomorrow when the two clubs meet in the final game of their current football series. A crowd of about 30,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

Halfbacks Dave Grayson and little Cleveland Jones provide the backfield speed for an Oregon team that has won four times while losing only to Michigan this campaign.

Quarterback Randy Gold, the sophomore field general, could provide the big gun for the Bears with his throwing. To date, however, California has lost four times while tying Washington State 21-21. Oregon played the Cougars of WSC last week coming off with a 21-12 victory.

Coach Marv Levy of California felt his club showed an improved offense against the Trojans of USC last Saturday and the Bears led 10-7 at one point, only to lose by a 27-10 count. Once again the Bears awakened in the second half.

A pleasant surprise for Oregon has been the play of fullback Bruce Snyder, a junior college transfer. His crisp blocking has been a big reason for the success of the running game. The 190-pounder also contributes solid smashes when short yardage is needed.

Cal gets halfback Bob Wills off the injury list but Jack Trumbo, a defensive back, isn't expected to play. Also out and depleting the halfback corps are Jim Burress and Alex Jamile.

Jerry Scattini proved the running start of the Bears at Los Angeles last week and he'll get the starting call along with Co-Capt. Steve Bates at the halfbacks. George Pierovich, the team's leading scorer, opens at fullback.

Oregon's quarterback Dave Grosz still hasn't regained his 1959 passing form after suffering a broken arm last summer. But his play calling has been outstanding and Coach Len Casanova figures he could begin hitting his receivers with consistency any game.

MARIN BATTLES YUBA TONIGHT AT KENTFIELD

Two winless junior college football aggregations clash head-on in Kentfield tonight as the College of Marin Tars entertain the Yuba College 49ers at 8 o'clock.

Marin Coach Harry Pieper said his squad appears to have bounced back from the 50-8 drubbing it suffered against Sierra last Saturday at Auburn. "Our attitude is good," said Pieper, "and our kids won't be outhustled tonight."

Yuba, a power in recent years, has hit a low this season and hasn't won a game.

Marin's starting lineup will be Mike Rawitser and Mike Cicero ends, Frank Gallardo and Harry Hersh tackles, Morrey Nelson and Chet McDermott guards, Martin McKeay center, Ron Blum quarterback, Fred Pfeffer and Russ Cook halfbacks and Denny Unterman fullback.

Marin Golf Team Beats Santa Rosa

Organizational meeting for a Marin County Colt Baseball League is scheduled for Monday night, 8 o'clock, at Redwood High School, it was announced today.

Colt baseball is for 15 and 16-year-old boys and all interested parents are invited to attend the meeting.

Bosox Sign Oklahoma Hurler For Fat Bonus

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have signed David Busby, 19, University of Oklahoma pitcher, for a bonus reported between $30,000 and $50,000, it was disclosed yesterday. R. B. Rice, Red Sox scout who signed him, said Busby will be assigned to Allentown, Pa., in the Eastern League.

COLLEGE ROUNDUP

Huskies, Beavers In Top Coast Feature

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Hivner, perhaps the best second string quaterback in collegiate football, takes over guidance of the powerful Washington Huskies tomorrow against the tough Oregon State Beavers.

Hivner opened last season as the No. 1 Washington quarterback but when injuries struck him down, Bob Schloredt took over in a manner that won All-American honors and relevated Hivner to No. 2.

Last Saturday Schloredt suffered a broken collarbone that will bench him until after the regular season ends. So now it's up to Hivner.

Coach Jim Owens must consider himself fortunate to have a replacement of such high caliber. Against Oregon State, the Rose Bowl favorites face a team that has lost only to top-ranked Iowa this season.

BIG FIVE GAME

In the only Big Five Conference game, winless Stanford tangles with favord UCLA tomorrow night in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The Uclans, downed 10-8 by Washington a week ago, rate as top heavy favorites over the Indians who fell 34-20 to San Jose State.

In other West Coast games, Washington State meets College of the Pacific at Pullman, Wash., Oregon plays at California, Idaho meets Hawaii at Honolulu and San Jose State battles undefeated Arizona State University at Tempe.

Washington's invasion of Corvallis highlights the coastal menu. Coach Tommy Prothro's Beavers opened the season with a surprising 14-0 victory over Southern California, the club many expected to furnish the biggest test to the Huskies of Washington.

Southern California draws an open date this week before meeting Stanford on Oct. 29.

California will be hard pressed to contain the speed of Oregon with halfbacks Dave Grayson and Cleveland Jones. Coach Marv Levy's Bears have lost four and tied Washington State. The Cougars of WSC lost last week to Oregon by a 21-12 count. Oregon's only loss of the season came at the hands of Michigan.

Tigers Seek 'Stability' In New Regime

DETROIT (AP) — A return to stability instead of continued upheavals is the Detroit Tigers' aim now that their front office rift has been settled with the departure of Bill DeWitt as president.

DeWitt resigned yesterday in an anticipated move and owner John E. Fetzer established himself in a one-man command. The departing president spurned Fetzer's offer to become assistant to the president.

Fetzer promised to end the changes that have brought a rotation of Tiger presidents, general managers and field bosses since 1952. The new Tiger president—fourth in five years—said he wants to halt the "new-manager-every-year policy" that has turned the once-stable Detroit franchise into a "who's running us now?" outfit.

SEEK MANAGER

Whoever Fetzer selects to pilot the 1961 Tigers will be the eighth manager in 10 seasons. Fetzer appointed the former general manager, Rick Ferrell, as his emissary to screen prospective pilots.

The Tiger managerial job was vacated when Joe Gordon quit Oct. 2 to become pilot at Kansas City. Gordon had held the job only two months, coming from Cleveland in the DeWitt-engineered managerial deal for Jimmie Dykes.

Gordon's sudden departure after signing a Detroit contract for 1961 caught DeWitt unaware. The ex-manager blamed DeWitt with "front office interference," the same charge made by Dykes after he left Detroit.

The resignation of Gordon put DeWitt on the hot seat. His fate apparently was sealed last week when Fetzer purchased additional stock to gain control.

Curtice Denies Racial Discrimination Charge

STANFORD (AP)—Coach Jack Curtice of the Stanford football team referred to opposing Negro players three times in a letter to Stanford alumni yesterday and he said later he meant only to be complimentary.

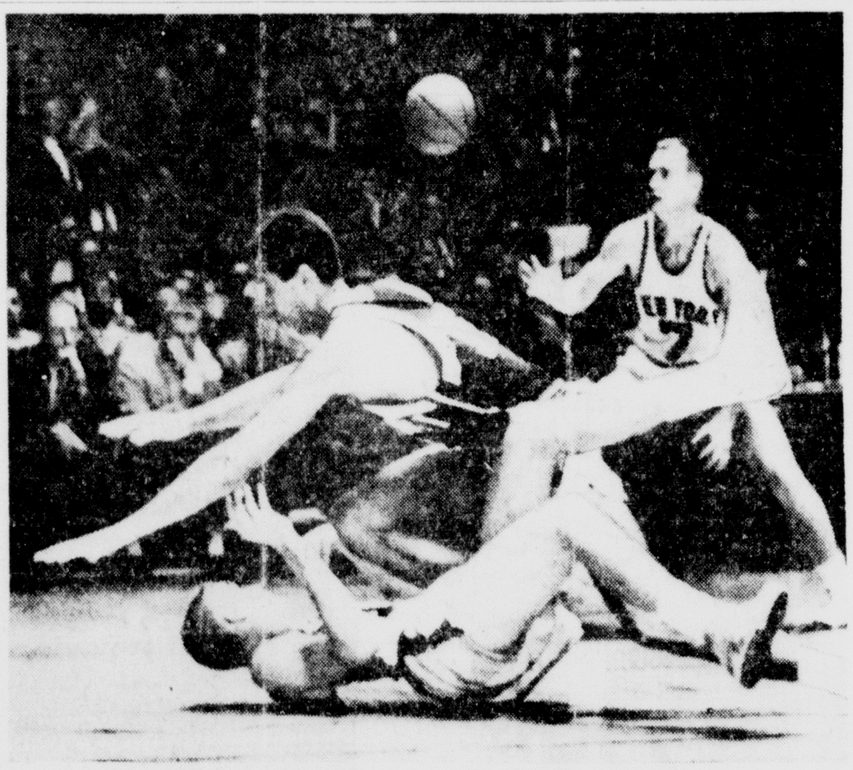

He expressed surprise that some people took his remarks as racial discrimination.

"I was only complimenting them," Curtice told newsmen. "They have been a thorn in our side all year, those fast colored boys. I'd sure like to get some of them at Stanford."

The Stanford squad has no Negro players.

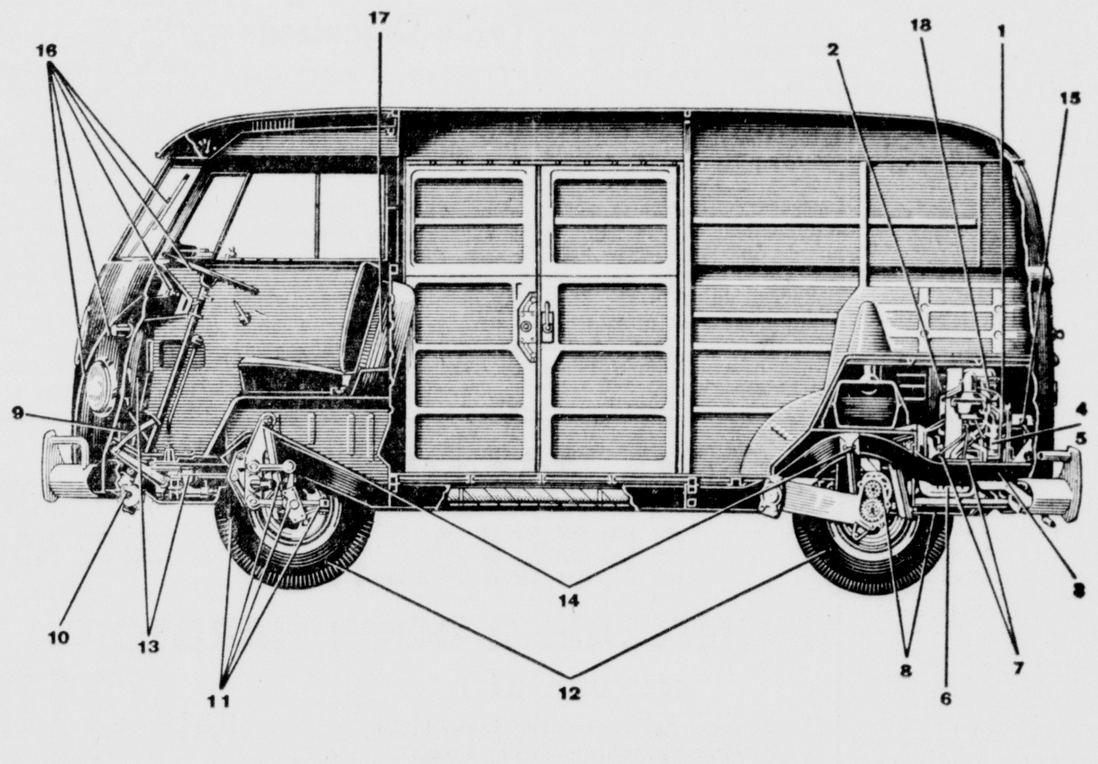

In writing of Stanford's 34-20 loss to San Jose State last week, Curtice said: "There were three colored boys in their backfield, Johnny Johnson, fullback, has a 9.5 time in the 100; Mack Burton runs the 100 in 9.6 and 9.7 . . . With that kind of speed it was quite hard for us to keep up with them. The week before, another colored boy on the Washington team, Charles Mitchell, hurt us badly with his speed . . . The freshman team fumbled nine times the other day and tied the San Jose State frosh 14-14. Again, and this may amaze you, there were three colored boys on their backfield, and they gave our frosh a rough time."

Stanford with fives losses and no wins this season, meets UCLA in Los Angeles Saturday night and Curtice commented, "They have some fine Negro players."

Packers Rarin' To Battle 49ers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, healthy and rarin' to go after a schedule break which cost them a share of the Western Division lead, resume National Football League warfare against the San Francisco 49ers here Sunday.

While hoping to pick up where they left off in a 35-21 victory over the champion Baltimore Colts two weeks ago, the Packers will be shooting to break a four-year jinx in the first of their two annual games in Milwaukee.

In their home-away-from-home games at Milwaukee, the Packers have dropped eight straight since they administered a 42-17 loss to the Los Angeles Rams Oct. 21, 1956. They were beaten 45-6 by the Rams and 28-24 by the Colts in two Milwaukee appearances last year.

Green Bay, which has won its last two starts after an opening loss to Chicago, fell a half game behind the Bears and the Colts, who upped their marks to 3-1 last Sunday while the Packers had an open date.

A victory over the 49ers appears a must for the Packers to maintain pace with the co-leaders. While Green Bay meets San Francisco, the Bears play Los Angeles, beaten four straight times, and the Colts encounter Detroit, winless in three outings.

The 49ers hope to rebound from a humiliating loss to the Bears. San Francisco outplayed Chicago all the way last Sunday but dropped a 27-10 decision as the Bears scored three times on plays covering 91, 61 and 37 yards.

The defeat left the 49ers with a 2-2 mark. They fully realize another loss could prove fatal at this stage of the season.

"They'll be desperate," said Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi. "Having lost two games, they can't afford to lose this one and stay in the race."

"I've got a feeling that this will be a rock 'em, sock 'em game," the coach said. "We'd better be ready to play hard-nose football."

The Packers have spent plenty of time in practice the past two weeks trying to improve their passing attack. They rely mainly on their powerful running game led by Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung.

Taylor, a third-year fullback from Louisiana State, leads the NFL in rushing with 281 yards and is tied for fourth in scoring with 30 points. Hornung, the league scoring champion last year, has 29 points.

The 49ers have a top-flight aerial attack with either Y. A. Tittle or John Brodie doing the throwing. Their outstanding runners are Hugh McElhenny and J. D. Smith.

The Packers trounced the 49ers twice last fall. However, the 49ers hold an over-all 13-5 edge in the rivalry begun in 1950.

A near capacity crowd of some 40,000 is expected.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Take Proper Care Of Your Weapons, Dampness Can Easily Ruin Them

STEVENS

Some years back we loaned one of our better fly rods to a friend. It was an expensive split bamboo affair that we kept in a cloth case inside an aluminum container. Our friend returned the rod in the container. We set it aside until the following year when we decided to use it for steelhead fishing. We carried it to the Jungle Hole on the Navarro River and removed it from the case, all set to begin rigging it up for fishing.

When we unscrewed the cover of the container and took out the cloth case we noticed the cloth had mildewed. The rod fell apart when we drew it out. The laminations had become unglued from being wet. The entire rod fell apart. It had been cased and put in the container while still wet.

Why mention such a tragic event (it was the only rod we had with us)? Simply because we wish to warn all our readers that an expensive shotgun (or a cheap one) can easily be ruined by being careless when hunting in the rain. Too many hunters are too unaware of what may happen if that firearm is subject to rain (or merely damp salt air) and is put away without being thoroughly cleaned and dried. So we suggest a few safeguards against it happening.

A WISE guy will cover the chamber of his gun with an oily rag while sitting in a blind during a rain. He will oil-coat all moving parts; he will place an empty can, or drinking cup over the muzzle of his gun until ready to aim and shoot, while it is raining, and, above all, he will not case the gun when he finishes shooting until he gets back home and cleans and dries it. Even when it isn't raining and the hunter is working the local areas where the salt or brackish spray and air is prevalent, he should not case his gun until it has been very thoroughly oiled and cleaned.

WE WONDER what has happened to the regulars who were wont to launch their blinds in the China Camp area before the season opened or immediately after. Grace Quan of China Camp reported that many of the old timers have declared they may not even buy a license this year and are not at all interested in their blinds. Might be because of the ban on shooting cans and redheads, but what's wrong with shooting bluies and other birds that are already rafting in the lower San Pablo Bay?

THE HUNTERS may be lacking in ambition, but the anglers are not so affected. Grace told us some really fancy fishing has been featured the past week. Seems that the bigger and better stripers are being found on the Marin side of the Bay, off the Corregidor (Burnt Pilings) section and also near the Pump House.

Grace mentioned one lone angler coming in from the Pump House area with a limit consisting of one 10-pound bass and two 14s; Fred Calou and two buddies displayed limits with three 14-pounders among them and George Simon with two friends showed limits to nine pounds from the Corregidor sector.

"Fishing is really good, Ralph," said Grace. "Most of the boats came in with limits all taken from our side of the Bay for the past three days."

FISHING IS also good on the Contra Costa side of the Bay. Buoys 8, 10, and 14 have been paying off.

Party boats out of Crockett, Rodeo and from the Napa River resorts have registered limits or near limits on the a.m. trips. The well known Ed Lee, with a party of five, came into the Dowrelio Harbor with five limits to 19 pounds; Johnny Kan and two friends unloaded three limits to 12 pounds and the "Mara Z" with two anglers aboard showed limits to 12 pounds also. The three latter reports are featured because all the fish were caught on bullheads.

Top Pros In Laguna Seca Road Races

FT. ORD (AP)—Several of the world's leading professional sports car drivers began practice laps here today, searching out the short, deceptively curved Laguna Seca track where the $20,000 Pacific Grand Prix will be held this weekend.

The drivers include the top three men of this season's international road racing—Australia's Jack Brabham, New Zealand's Bruce McLaren and California's Phil Hill.

Many of the cars entered in the 200-mile feature Sunday have much smaller engine displacements than the average, noncompact family car. But with light bodies, delicate tuning and race track gearing, they can travel as fast as many jets on takeoff.

BRABHAM FAVORED

Brabham, England's Stirling Moss and Californian Dan Gurney are given an edge in prerace figuring.

Brabham will drive a Cooper Monace over the 1.9-mile track and Moss and Gurney will wheel Lotus MK XIX Monte Carlos. Rodger Ward, who won the Indianapolis 500 in 1959 and finished second this year, will pilot a Porsche RS 550.

In all, 61 professionals have entered the race.

Tomorrow there will be five amateur races for production and modified sports cars.

Marin Colt Loop Meeting Slated

Marin Golf Club's women's team defeated Santa Rosa golfers yesterday in the second match of their home and home series. Marin won the team honors by 18 points, but a special hole-in-one contest was taken by a Santa Rosa woman, Mary Wright, as she placed her tee shot five feet from the pin.

Net scores:

Class A—Tie Mrs. Hal White, 92-15—77 and Mrs. Lois Wilson, 91-14—77; Mrs. Henry Rolph, Santa Rosa, 98-17—81; tie Mrs. Gene LaRose, Santa Rosa, 95-12—83 and Mrs. Meyer Schwartz, 102-19—83.

Williams Honored For Comeback Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams, who bowed out of baseball this seasan after an illustrious career, had another accolade added to his imposing list today. He was named the American League comeback player of the year for 1960.

Williams was a decisive choice in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers. The Boston Red Sox outfielder received 86 of the 182 ballots cast. Runnerup was Roy Sievers of the Chicago White Sox with 34 votes.

Tempestous Ted, who broke into the majors in 1939 and served two hitches in the armed forces, finished with a flourish at the age of 42. In his final at bat on Sept. 28 he bade baseball farewell with the 51st home run of his career.

Beset by shoulder and neck pains, Williams' average plummeted to .254 last year. He had only 272 official at bats and produced just 10 home runs. This past season Williams batted .316 and hit 29 homers in 310 official trips.

In 1959 with the Senators Sievers batted .242, hit 21 homers and drove in 49 runs. This past season traded to Chicago Roy took over the regular first base job from Ted Kluszewski and hit 295. He accounted for 28 home runs and 93 RBI.

Al Smith of the White Sox ranked third in the comeback voting and drew 22 ballots. A .237 hitter in 1959, he had a .315 average this past season—second highest in the American League.

Others nominated for comeback honors with votes in parenthesis: Vic Wertz, Red Sox (10); Chuck Stobbs, Senators (4); Jim Gentile and Gene Woodling, Orioles, Bill Skowron, Yankees and Pete Runnels, Red Sox (2) and Herb Score, Minnie Minoso, Frank Baumann and Billy Pierce, White Sox, Bob Turley and Yogi Berra, Yankees, Jim Piersall, Indians and Billy Gardner, Orioles (1).

It must be conceded that in the furtherance of the sport of yacht racing, there is no bay organization that has shown greater perserverance and concerted drive than the Sausalito Yacht Club.

To inject some adrenalin into the waning season they are sponsoring the initial invitational Mercury Class Regatta tomorrow and Sunday. It will be a three-race contest, a single race tomorrow at 1 p.m. and a double bill on Sunday, 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Twenty or more of the one design Mercury Class are expected to vie for the Peter Sutter Trophy, a handsome piece of silverware donated by the veteran yachtsman and sailmaker of Sausalito named, by odd coincidence, Peter Sutter.

To add a bit of zest for those participants who, perennially, finish out of the money a second prize will be awarded, the Grab Bag Trophy, and it, too, is an impressive piece of merchandise.

Roughly, those who finish in the middle of the pack are eligible. Their numbers will be dropped in a hat and some comely lady will pick the lucky winner. To properly inaugurate the autumnal regatta the Sausalito Y.C. will hold a dinner dance tomorrow evening in its new clubhouse.

L.A. Rams To Try New Quarterback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Rams, still seeking a victory after four defeats in the National Football League this fall, will start a new quarterback, Frank Ryan, against the Chicago Bears here Sunday.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Some years back we loaned one of our better fly rods to a friend. It was an expensive split bamboo affair that we kept in a cloth case inside an aluminum container. Our friend returned the rod in the container. We set it aside until the following year when we decided to use it for steelhead fishing. We carried it to the Jungle Hole on the Navarro River and removed it from the case, all set to begin rigging it up for fishing.

When we unscrewed the cover of the container and took out the cloth case we noticed the cloth had mildewed. The rod fell apart when we drew it out. The laminations had become unglued from being wet. The entire rod fell apart. It had been cased and put in the container while still wet.

Why mention such a tragic event (it was the only rod we had with us)? Simply because we wish to warn all our readers that an expensive shotgun (or a cheap one) can easily be ruined by being careless when hunting in the rain. Too many hunters are too unaware of what may happen if that firearm is subject to rain (or merely damp salt air) and is put away without being thoroughly cleaned and dried. So we suggest a few safeguards against it happening.

A WISE guy will cover the chamber of his gun with an oily rag while sitting in a blind during a rain. He will oil-coat all moving parts; he will place an empty can, or drinking cup over the muzzle of his gun until ready to aim and shoot, while it is raining, and, above all, he will not case the gun when he finishes shooting until he gets back home and cleans and dries it. Even when it isn't raining and the hunter is working the local areas where the salt or brackish spray and air is prevalent, he should not case his gun until it has been very thoroughly oiled and cleaned.

WE WONDER what has happened to the regulars who were wont to launch their blinds in the China Camp area before the season opened or immediately after. Grace Quan of China Camp reported that many of the old timers have declared they may not even buy a license this year and are not at all interested in their blinds. Might be because of the ban on shooting cans and redheads, but what's wrong with shooting bluies and other birds that are already rafting in the lower San Pablo Bay?

THE HUNTERS may be lacking in ambition, but the anglers are not so affected. Grace told us some really fancy fishing has been featured the past week. Seems that the bigger and better stripers are being found on the Marin side of the Bay, off the Corregidor (Burnt Pilings) section and also near the Pump House.

Grace mentioned one lone angler coming in from the Pump House area with a limit consisting of one 10-pound bass and two 14s; Fred Calou and two buddies displayed limits with three 14-pounders among them and George Simon with two friends showed limits to nine pounds from the Corregidor sector.

"Fishing is really good, Ralph," said Grace. "Most of the boats came in with limits all taken from our side of the Bay for the past three days."

FISHING IS also good on the Contra Costa side of the Bay. Buoys 8, 10, and 14 have been paying off.

Party boats out of Crockett, Rodeo and from the Napa River resorts have registered limits or near limits on the a.m. trips. The well known Ed Lee, with a party of five, came into the Dowrelio Harbor with five limits to 19 pounds; Johnny Kan and two friends unloaded three limits to 12 pounds and the "Mara Z" with two anglers aboard showed limits to 12 pounds also. The three latter reports are featured because all the fish were caught on bullheads.

Top Pros In Laguna Seca Road Races

FT. ORD (AP)—Several of the world's leading professional sports car drivers began practice laps here today, searching out the short, deceptively curved Laguna Seca track where the $20,000 Pacific Grand Prix will be held this weekend.

The drivers include the top three men of this season's international road racing—Australia's Jack Brabham, New Zealand's Bruce McLaren and California's Phil Hill.

Many of the cars entered in the 200-mile feature Sunday have much smaller engine displacements than the average, noncompact family car. But with light bodies, delicate tuning and race track gearing, they can travel as fast as many jets on takeoff.

BRABHAM FAVORED

Brabham, England's Stirling Moss and Californian Dan Gurney are given an edge in prerace figuring.

Brabham will drive a Cooper Monace over the 1.9-mile track and Moss and Gurney will wheel Lotus MK XIX Monte Carlos. Rodger Ward, who won the Indianapolis 500 in 1959 and finished second this year, will pilot a Porsche RS 550.

In all, 61 professionals have entered the race.

Tomorrow there will be five amateur races for production and modified sports cars.

School Speaker Traces America's Attempt To Educate Everybody

"No society in the history of man ever attempted to provide the amount of schooling for the total extent of the population as has the American society," John Connelly, associate professor of education at San Francisco Sate College, declared last night at the College of Marin.

Connelly, who is also a social anthropologist, spoke on "What stake does society have in the controversies?" in the third of a six-lecture course on "Public Education: Criticisms and Issues."

Exploring social issues behind the criticism, Connelly traced the development of education requirements from the time of World War I when a person had to to be at least an eighth grade graduate to get a job.

In the 1930s there were no jobs, so people were kept in school longer, and by World War II, a high school diploma was needed, he said.

With the GI Bill, the idea of college became a reality as soon as the resources were put there for the individual. "The old tradition of everybody's equality to learn was pushed higher and higher . . . and the schools were stuck with the problem," the professor said.

Connelly said that in no society of any kind has there been an education system that wasn't subject to criticism. "No generation ever sees its young in the same way as they saw themselves when young, and this provokes criticism," he said.

Describing the "basic American value system," Connelly said that Americans look at the universe as a mechanistic one, made up of parts. 'You can find out how all the parts work by study. Science was a strong influence in developing this concept," he said.

An important aspect of an American's views is that he sees the universe with the conviction that he can control it and dominate it, Connelly said. But he looks on other men as being equal and perfectable, and this is a contradiction, the professor went on.

The philosophies of 'I'm as good as the next person," and "if I work hard I will get ahead" are basic to criticism of American schools, he said.

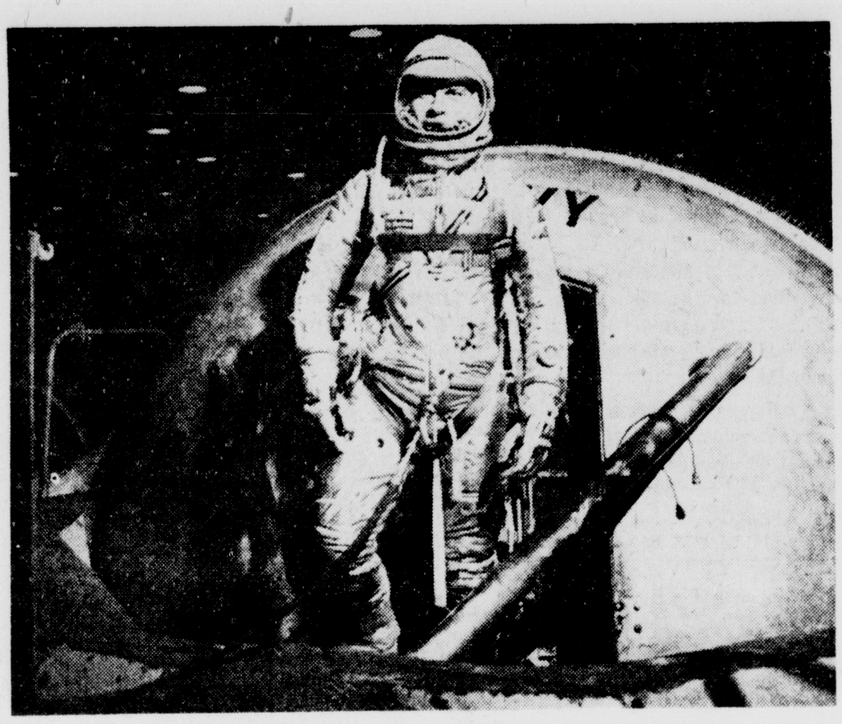

The American culture pattern is to find a compromise, the professor explained "We know everybody isn't equal, so what we say to compromise is that everybody should have an equal opportunity. This meant we had to have schools for everybody."

One of the big problems today, he said, is to develop a sensitivity about human relations. "We've never really been pressed to do this before," he said.

The professor warned against assuming that because a person is a specialist in one area, he "by some mystical process "becomes a specialist on anything.

"It's hard to find a specialization in our society that can't come in tell us how bad our schools are," he declared.

Harold L. Ickes served as secretary of the interior for 13 years, a record for members of the president's cabinet.

TRAINING FOR FLIGHT INTO SPACE

Air Force Capt. Donald K. Slayton emerges from a centrifuge gondola during a training program at the Navy's Aviation Medical Acceleration Laboratory at Johnsville, Pa. He and six other astronauts completed a rugged 17 days of training for their first rocket ride into space, planned for early next year. The program also provides training for medical support personnel who will monitor the physical status of astronauts during manned flights. Space capsules will be hurled by a Redstone missile on a ballistic trajectory 125 miles up and 200 miles down range from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Each training period in the centrifuge has lasted about seven hours. (AP Wirephoto)

Agreement Reached On State Fallout Shelter Program

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Agreement has just about been reached on a civil defense fallout shelter program to be put before the 1961 legislature.

A committee working up the recommendations for Gov. Brown indicated yesterday that its plan would include:

1. A pilot program to determine whether community shelters could be built economically into new schools or installed under school playgrounds.

2. An inventory of available shelters in public and private buildings, with funds to improve the fallout-proof nature of public places.

3. A constitutional amendment to exempt private shelters from property taxes, and a statute to allow fast tax write-off for shelters built by employers.

4. A fallout shelter for use as an emergency capitol in the event of nuclear attack, probably under a proposed Highway Patrol-Military Department headquarters building in Sacramento, but possibly in the basement of the capital itself.

Director Allan K. Jonas of the State Disaster Office said he has discarded the possibility of providing shelters for every man, woman and child.

"If we can take care of the children it would be a substantial step," he said.

Jonas also apparently has discarded plans for an emergency government center outside Sacramento.

AMERICA'S THRIVING AGE OF ACTION

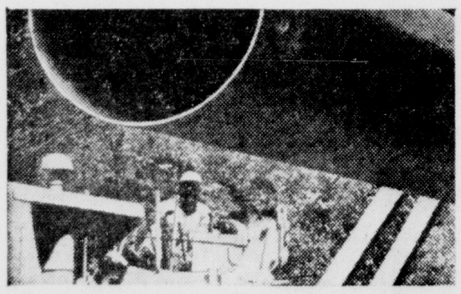

BECAUSE OF AMERICA'S VITALITY... because the facts of growth and progress are before everyone's eyes... because the restless, creative energies of Americans have moved our economy into an age of action... life in 1960 takes on a new, exciting dimension. Here are some of the ways Standard is expanding the thriving economic fronts of today into your future.

ACTION IN HAWAII New landmark in Hawaii's economy is Standard's refinery...opening next month. Creating new jobs, new payrolls and products "made in Hawaii," this huge plant will cost $65,000,000 — new progress for the Islands.

ACTION 1960-1961 This year we're investing about $400,000,000 to find and produce the oil you'll need... and for new plants and equipment to serve our customers better in an expanding economy. Next year we expect to expend a like amount, because the future of a growing America will demand more and more oil. The best estimates indicate use of motor gasoline in the West, for example, will rise nearly 4% in 1961 over 1960. That $400,000,000 is a practical measure of our confidence in the future.

ACTION IN ALASKA Oil is on the horizon — the first commercial production. To speed it to tankers, Standard participated in construction of the just-completed 22-mile pipeline. Standard's investment in the last two years has been three times what the U.S. paid for Alaska in 1867.

ACTION IN RESEARCH How far can science and imagination commercially "stretch" the molecule of oil? Into colored plastic highways? Into a new wear-defying fiber for clothing? We're backing our research staff — 1400 strong — with $20,000,000 in 1960...to find new ideas and practical answers in this age of action.

ACTION ON THE HIGHWAYS In 1960, under highway building programs, four billion dollars' worth of new roads will connect the nation with its future. As a major supplier of asphalt, Standard helps pave the way at lower cost. For asphalt puts down three smooth miles of highway for the cost of two in other pavements.

ACTION IN AGRICULTURE To keep the nation's productivity rising we completed a $5,000,000 chemical fertilizer plant this year in Washington. This month, in Iowa, we started work on another, costing $22,000,000... the sixth plant in ORTHO's wide-spread agricultural family.

School Speaker Traces America's Attempt To Educate Everybody

"No society in the history of man ever attempted to provide the amount of schooling for the total extent of the population as has the American society," John Connelly, associate professor of education at San Francisco Sate College, declared last night at the College of Marin.

Connelly, who is also a social anthropologist, spoke on "What stake does society have in the controversies?" in the third of a six-lecture course on "Public Education: Criticisms and Issues."

Exploring social issues behind the criticism, Connelly traced the development of education requirements from the time of World War I when a person had to to be at least an eighth grade graduate to get a job.

In the 1930s there were no jobs, so people were kept in school longer, and by World War II, a high school diploma was needed, he said.

With the GI Bill, the idea of college became a reality as soon as the resources were put there for the individual. "The old tradition of everybody's equality to learn was pushed higher and higher . . . and the schools were stuck with the problem," the professor said.

Connelly said that in no society of any kind has there been an education system that wasn't subject to criticism. "No generation ever sees its young in the same way as they saw themselves when young, and this provokes criticism," he said.

Describing the "basic American value system," Connelly said that Americans look at the universe as a mechanistic one, made up of parts. 'You can find out how all the parts work by study. Science was a strong influence in developing this concept," he said.

An important aspect of an American's views is that he sees the universe with the conviction that he can control it and dominate it, Connelly said. But he looks on other men as being equal and perfectable, and this is a contradiction, the professor went on.

The philosophies of 'I'm as good as the next person," and "if I work hard I will get ahead" are basic to criticism of American schools, he said.

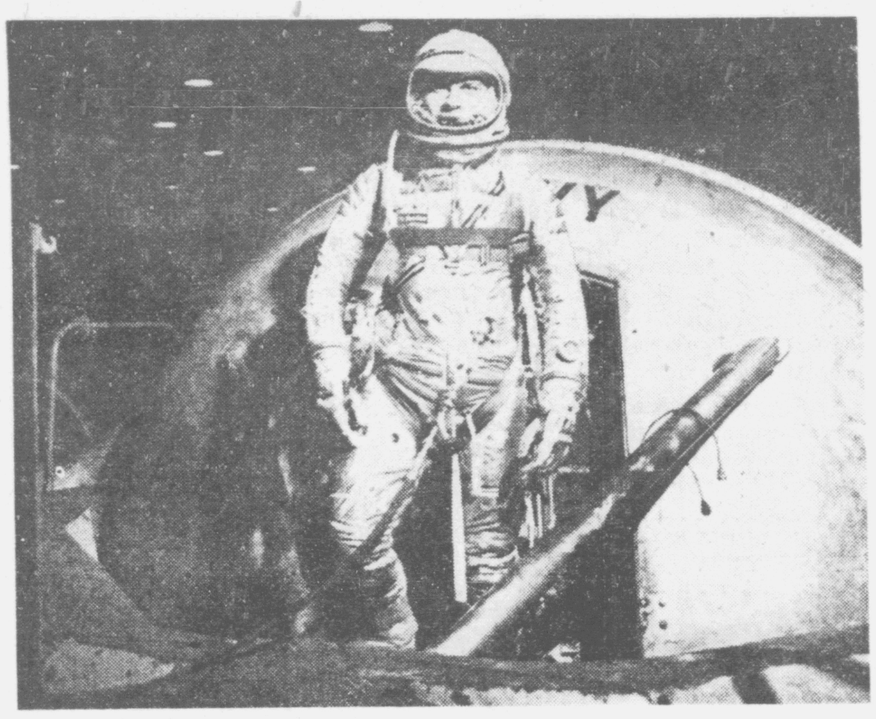

The American culture pattern is to find a compromise, the professor explained "We know everybody isn't equal, so what we say to compromise is that everybody should have an equal opportunity. This meant we had to have schools for everybody."

One of the big problems today, he said, is to develop a sensitivity about human relations. "We've never really been pressed to do this before," he said.

The professor warned against assuming that because a person is a specialist in one area, he "by some mystical process "becomes a specialist on anything.

"It's hard to find a specialization in our society that can't come in tell us how bad our schools are," he declared.

Harold L. Ickes served as secretary of the interior for 13 years, a record for members of the president's cabinet.

TRAINING FOR FLIGHT INTO SPACE

Air Force Capt. Donald K. Slayton emerges from a centrifuge gondola during a training program at the Navy's Aviation Medical Acceleration Laboratory at Johnsville, Pa. He and six other astronauts completed a rugged 17 days of training for their first rocket ride into space, planned for early next year. The program also provides training for medical support personnel who will monitor the physical status of astronauts during manned flights. Space capsules will be hurled by a Redstone missile on a ballistic trajectory 125 miles up and 200 miles down range from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Each training period in the centrifuge has lasted about seven hours. (AP Wirephoto)

Engagement Told At Dance Party

The engagement of Natalie Grace Merritt of Novato and Walter Sundberg of San Francisco was announced informally at the Open Door Club Friday night following the Zillertaler Laendler, an exhibition dance given by the couple as a part of the evening's Harthur Hurry Dancing Party. The announcement was made by Robert F. Merritt, father of the bride-elect and president of the club.

The evening's program, following the pot luck dinner, was patterned after the well known TV program of similar name. Tali Merritt played the part of Mrs. Hurry while Walter Sundberg played her husband, Harthur.

The applause meter was made by Cap Clarkson.

Contestants were Mr. and Mrs. Murl Mahler in the Blackhawk Waltz; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Denny in a rhumba; Mr. Peter Mazzini, Mr. and Mrs. Mahler, Miss Audrey Mahler, Tali Merritt and Walter Sundberg in the Raksi Jaek and Capt. Charles Clarkson and Mrs. Cyrus Flugger in the Missouri Waltz.

Mrs. Philip Dickinson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Walter Panholzer, led the group in the singing of such old favorites as "Cruising Down the River" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Attendance award was presented by Mrs. Mary Anne Boone to Carl Relph. Sixty-two enjoyed the evening.

Parsonettes Hear Talk By Dr. Fairchild

The Parsonettes, wives of students at San Francisco Theological Seminary, met Tuesday evening in the lounge of Alexander Hall.

The meeting was opened with a devotion, "The Salty Tang," given by Mrs. James Bell. Introduction of the wives of faculty members was made by Mrs. Walter D. Knight.

Mrs. Philip Nygaard presented the theme of the programs for the year ahead. It will be "Growing Toward Christian Maturity"—a growth in Christian faith as individuals and in family, church, and community relationships, and a realization that Christian maturity must be a continuing experience.

The first note in this theme was sounded by Dr. Roy Fairchild, professor of Christian Education at the Seminary, who was the speaker for the evening. His subject was the family and the factors, such as change and different personalities, that can disturb its unity. Unity does not mean uniformity, however, or becoming ingrown; each person has something unique to offer, and the family must reach out beyond itself. A discussion period in small groups followed Dr. Fairchild's presentation.

The meeting was closed with prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Theodore A. Gill, Mrs. David Esler and a committee of wives of faculty members.

Focus Show To Fete Jolly Rogers Chapter

Guests at Rickey's Fashion Focus Luncheon Tuesday, Oct. 25, will learn "tricks to treat" the eye this fall from a presentation of "The Tale of the Halloween Witch" by the members of the Jolly Rogers Chapter of the Children's Home Society.

Mrs. James E. Cermak, chairman of the fashion show, has selected eight glamour-witches to show the new fashions from one of San Rafael and Novato's leading women's apparel shops. Presenting the tale of "The witch who didn't have a rag to wear and couldn't even unsnarl her hair" will be Mesdames Richard Colombo, William Wilson Jr., William J. Hislop, Ralph T. Nattress, John Armbruster, Jack Countryman, Marshall McCoy and Robert Kitchak.

The day's show will prove this to be one of the most colorful seasons. At long last, it's a great fashion season for the "grape" tones; everything from blue-grape through amethyst to deep purple. Also with the fashion spectrum turning brighter, the sparkling blue-red "wines" return to favor; from deeply glowing dubonnet and burgundy to lighter rose hues. New colors also predominant in the fashion news are the ever popular "spice" tones that range all the way from curry gold and mustard through tawny cinnamon and ginger on to muted greens and nutmeg brown and brilliant flashes of orange.

Hairstyles for the day's glamour witches will be created by a San Rafael beauty salon and the new tones in makeup will be shown. Table decorations will carry out the Halloween theme.

The Jolly Roger Chapter along with more than 150 auxiliaries, chapters and councils throughout the state serve and implement the program of the Children's Home Society through volunteer work and sponsorship of fund raising events. More than 19,000 children have found happiness and security in adoptive homes of their own through the continuing work of the Children's Home Society and its chapters.

Early reservations for the 12:30 luncheon and 1 o'clock fashion show are suggested by Marion Bellamy, fashion coordinator, and can be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Sleepy Hollow Group Forms New Auxiliary

The women of Sleepy Hollow recently formed a new organization, open to all members of the Homes Association. Mrs. Stephen Pinson is president of the new Women's Auxiliary of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Association. Meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. at the Homes Association Clubhouse.

Other officers are Mesdames Patricia Penhallow, vice president; Eric Nelson, recording secretary; Vernon Rasmussen, corresponding secretary; Fred Hale, treasurer; James Rideout, liaison officer; and Robert Schneider, membership chairman.

The Auxiliary is fostering departments of social, cultural, and instructive interest for its members, which are reflected in the programs for the year. Mrs. Richard Cahill and Mrs. Raymond Amonini are co-chairmen for the Auxiliary Christmas party to be held on December 8 for members and invited guests. Reservations will close on November 10.

Also active now are groups in bowling with Mrs. Jack Everson, chairman, antiques, Mrs. Howard Pors, chairman; bridge, Mrs. Wallace Painter, chairman; languages, Mrs. E. E. Rolin, chairman; Adele Davis nutrition, Mrs. Willis Wans, chairman; and ballet exercises, Mrs. Pinson, chairman.

All members and prospective members interested in these departments are asked to call the respective chairmen.

After the October meeting, the members adjourned to the home of Mrs. Patricia Penhallow for refreshments and music by the concert pianist Marion Meyer, cousin and house guest of Mrs. Penhallow.

Playing an important part in the events in the Hollow, the Auxiliary has been active in the September Sleepy Hollow Fair, and undertook July 4 barbecue for the Homes Association, with Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. Richard Cahill chairmen of the respective events.

The September meeting featured Wilma Harris who gave a display-lecture on the art of mosaics.

Blessed Sacrament Show Is Already Complete Sellout

A complete sellout in the first few days since reservations were opened—that is the good news for the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild Fashion Show set for Nov. 2.

Reservations chairman Mrs. James Stirling has announced that there is no more space available at the annual fashion event.

This year proceeds from the affair, an evening dessert-coffee, will go toward furnishing four new classrooms for the Blessed Sacrament School. The new school wing is scheduled for completion next fall in time for school to accommodate a fifth grade and school offices.

The show theme "A Weekend in San Francisco" has been intricately woven into both decorations by Mrs. J. M. Mulqueeney and her committee and into the Bay City backdrops which will be spotlighted as Mrs. William Roberts comments upon the fashions from a San Rafael store.

In charge of arrangements for the affair is Mrs. Frank Kiernan.

Bikini To Snooze

Actress Sylvia Miles Talents Also Lie In Furniture Making

NEW YORK (AP) — Nervous? Tired? Then go hit your dining room table with an ice pick for a few hours, says Sylvia Miles, vivacious actress whose offstage talents include making her own furniture.

"There is nothing better than making furniture to relieve your pent-up hostilities, and its a lot of fun too," says the current star of the Circle in the Square's production of "The Balcony."

And Sylvia's the gal who should know. She has made practically all the furniture in her elegant, three room apartment.

She developed a love for antiques several years ago, after having lived in a modernistic apartment. However, the antiques turned out to be far more expensive than she imagined.

After sitting through several auctions, she decided to make her own. "It was the only way I could possibly afford them," she says.

Sylvia started out her antique-it-yourself hobby with an old table she found in an alley. She aged it by hitting it with an ice pick, a hammer and other tools, and then refinished it.

A real scavenger, Sylvia salvaged some shutters and panels from a house which was being torn down, and made a bar and wall console from them.

It took quite a long time to get the proper antique effect on the console, Sylvia says. She sanded the shutters, aged the wood with a scrub brush and ice pick and then applied layers of burnt sienna, which were quickly wiped off, on a basic white coat.

After the gold leaf was applied, the console had that dusty-antique look.

She also made a chess set for four cents out of linoleum, plywood and discarded dime store chessmen. Sylvia recently was offered $150 for the set which had been antiqued with paint and gold leaf.

"I usually find the furniture quite by accident. Often I will keep a piece for months before I decide what to do with it," says Sylvia.

"I make the furniture on the service porch after work which is early morning—about 1 a.m. I used to do much more when I wasn't working. Now it seems I don't have the time to get to my tool chest very often."

Sylvia's father is in the furniture manufacturing business in Greenwich Village. However, furniture making is not a family trait, she claims.

"My father never taught me a thing; I learned it all on my own. In fact, recently I've been giving him a few hints on redoing old furniture," Sylvia says.

Once her apartment is filled, Sylvia plans to keep making furniture. "I'll give it away if I have to," she says.

Kaffee Klatsches Planned To Display Holiday Articles

The public is invited to enjoy two morning kaffee klatsches by the San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery School to display Christmas items that will be directly on sale and also available in any quantity by placing an order.

The proceeds from the sale of Christmas wrappings, ribbons, decorations, imprinted and boxed Christmas cards will be used to obtain educational equipment needed by the nursery school.

Coffee and cake will be served at the home of Mrs. J. W. Rogers, 980 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo between 10 a.m. and noon on Tuesday, Oct. 25. On Friday, Nov. 4, Mrs. Samuel Hanzel, 100 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, will be serving coffee and cake between 10 a.m. and noon.

Tamal Lodge Honors Past Noble Grands

A recent meeting of Tamal Rebekah Lodge, past noble grands night was held and a large number attended. During the meeting they were escorted by the conductor and warden of the lodge to the center of the floor where they introduced themselves and were presented with a corsage by the vice grand, Mrs. Foster Lawrence, chairman of the evening. A motion picture was shown by the PG&E on atomic energy and then refreshments were served by the committee.

At the next meeting on Tuesday evening, Oct. 25, four candidates will be given the degree. All members of the order are invited to attend and welcome the new members. On the committee for the evening will be Mrs. George Beckley as chairman assisted by Mesdames Everett Ruhl, Francis Keelan, Robert Spitzer, Hedy Short and Ada Earwood.

WHAT HAT IS IN THE RING?

On Proposition No. 1, California State Water Bonds, a representative from the Department of Water Resources in Sacramento will speak in favor of the Water Bonds and Donald Vial, Terra Linda, from California Office of Political Education will speak against.

On Propositions No. 2 and 5, Michael Harris of Sausalito, political observer and reporter for a San Francisco Newspaper, will give an analysis. On proposition No. 15, Senatorial Reapportionment, a statement compiled from arguments will be read as no one in this area was available to speak in favor. Francis Newton of Belvedere, regional chairman of highway committee, State Chamber of Commerce will speak against the proposition.

Of interest to Marin voters, fluoridation of Marin water supply will be favored by a representative of Children's Health Committee of Marin and opposition by Robert L. Tuckey D.D.S. of Kentfield, representing the Pure Water Committee. The Lucas Valley Home and Hospital Bonds will be championed by Miss Betty Presley, Director of Welfare for Marin and opposed by a representative of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

Hats Off To Junior Traffic Patrol For Doing A Most Remarkable Job

Is there a junior traffic patrol at your school?

I've been driving around the country and I'm impressed with the work the patrol boys are doing. Hats off to our junior traffic directors everywhere.

Most of the boys are only 10 or 11. They have been selected by their teachers. They're responsible, intelligent, careful. Harum-scarum kids don't get this important job.

They've been drilled. In most schools a policeman comes to lead them. The boys love him. He admires them. They work on their routines until they are perfect. Then they go out to the corners and take over.

They wear distinctive sweaters and caps. You can spot them a mile away.

I remember when the junior traffic patrol was new. Most folks viewed it with alarm. They said no children ever should have so much responsibility.

What they said is true at busy intersections. But for ordinary traffic around neighborhood schools, boys are as good as adults. They've proven that a million times.

One big city checked the driving record of teen-age boys who had been on the traffic patrols. Can you guess the result?

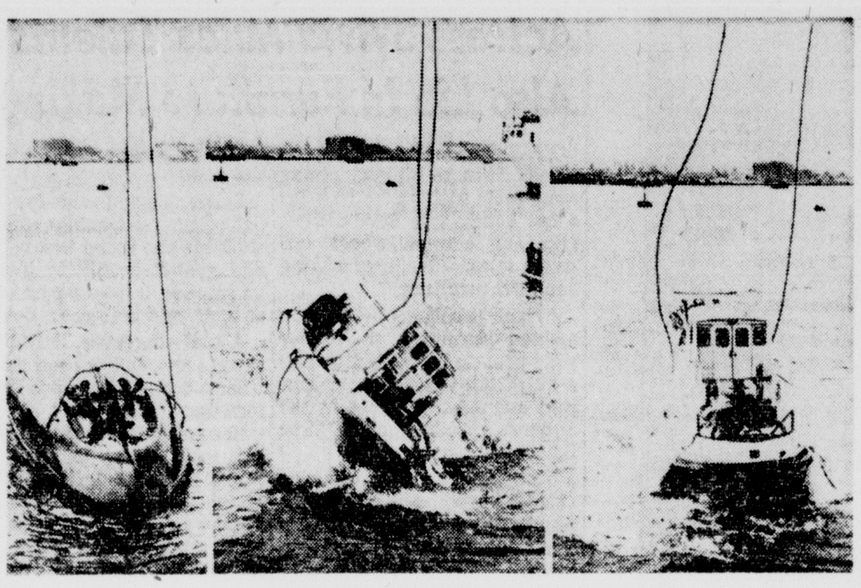

Former patrol boys were the safest teen-age boy drivers of all. They obeyed the laws. They didn't take chances. The lessons they learned on patrol had stuck.

Thank you, boys. You're the best of the youngest generation and we're all proud of you!

State Buys Land For New Super-Highway

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California has started buying rights of way for the long talked-of Westside Freeway, planned as a key segment of the West's future major Canada-to-Mexico Highway.

The state is virtually starting from scratch on the future highway route cutting through the sparsely populated west side of the San Joaquin Valley.

The 315-mile route from Wheeler Ridge at the foot of the valley to north of Sacramento is unique in that it is the longest single project on entirely new alignment ever undertaken by the state.

Here's a quick rundown on progress of the route:

The California Highway Commission has adopted routes for 256 miles of the freeway, roughly from Wheeler Ridge to Stockton.

The commission expects to act soon on a routing north to Sacramento, and studies are underway on the final portion from near Sacramento to Woodland.

This year's highway budget includes $290,000 for purchase of land, which already has begun.

Advance design studies are being made for routings already adopted.

The highway will cut the distance from the San Francisco Bay area to Los Angeles by 20 to 40 miles and is expected to assume much of the truck traffic now using U. S. 99 through the valley.

It will be the Central Valley link on Interstate 5, the most westerly major north-south route on the national system.

Interstate 5 will follow U. S. 101 from the Mexican border to Los Angeles: U. S. 99 over the Grapevine grade to the valley; the Westside Freeway to north of Sacramento; then rejoin U. S. 99.

A 1957 report estimated the total cost of the Westside Freeway at 261 million dollars, less than 1 million dollars a mile for a four-lane freeway with a median width of 84 feet.

The absence of steep grades, cultivated land and big cities along the route accounts for the low estimate.

Planning problems were posed by the necessity of keeping out of the mountains to the west, while also steering clear of the rich farm land to the east.

Irrigated land posed another problem peculiar to the area—land subsidence in areas where water had been pumped from below the water table.

The route also avoids flood plains of the Kern River at the south end of the valley.

The highway is part of the Federal Interstate system, which is figured for completion by 1975. Highway planners say it will be at least that long before the Westside Freeway, first formally studied in 1950, is open to traffic.

Man's History Related To Dairy Cows

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (UPI) — Man and the dairy cow have walked through history together, according to A. M. Meekma, a Texas A&M College dairy husbandman.

"The story of man is closely related to the story of the dairy cow," said Meekma. "There is evidence that the ancestors of modern man followed the ancestors of modern cows from pasture to pasture many thousands of years ago."

To prove his point, Meekma has come up with these bovine historical notes:

—In the oldest writings known to man, stone tablets in Sanskrit, it says the earliest known king was Gopatis, "Lord of the cows."

—Milking used to be a sacred rite in ancient times, with a priest presiding at the milking.

—The moon used to be known as the "Milk Goddess of the Night," the stars as five-horned cattle and of course, a spread of stars as the "Milky Way."

—Hippocrates prescribed milk as a medicine.

Will A. Foster, a Scarsdale, N.Y., historian of the dairy industry, points out other things about cows, including the contention that cows are smart enough to know when to be dumb.

"Each has her own habits — they can be jealous, mean and proud," he said.

Foster said problems of feminine personalities arise in dairy herds when there is no bull to act as boss. One of the older cows will set herself up as lead cow, or bell cow.

If she dies or is sold, there's a struggle among other cows to take her place. If a bell is taken away from the lead cow, she's likely to sulk and her milk production may drop off.

"Basically cows are smart," Foster said, "but they give the impression of being dumb so that people won't bother them."

Some of Foster's favorite observances on cows:

—Wall Street got its name from a high wooden fence built to protect cattle.

—Shakespeare mentions cheese 13 times in his writings.

—A half-ton cheese was a wedding gift to Queen Victoria of England.

McClure Realty

Dear Richard,

Your interest in Marin County waterfront property warrants action. One little gem of a home that we have requires about $3,500 down and payments would be around $110 a month. Price $15,500.

John

Dear John,

I understand that you have a 3 bedroom, 2 bath luxury type home on the bay, with a boathouse and a tremendous view, for $45,000.

Richard

Dear Helen,

John says he would like you to see a home at 588 Calle de la Mesa, next to the golf course in Loma Verde. It has an all electric kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and is priced at $25,000 and includes many other fine features.

John's Other Wife

Dear Other Wife,

Richard wants so much these days and money is the problem. I understand that McClure has 2 beautiful homes in Glenwood, where we could still be near to golfing and boating and have all electric kitchens for less than $5,000 down.

Helen

McClure Realty

Dear Richard,
Your interest in Marin County waterfront property warrants action. One little gem of a home that we have requires about $3,500 down and payments would be around $110 a month. Price $15,500.
John

Dear John,
I understand that you have a 3 bedroom, 2 bath luxury type home on the bay, with a boathouse and a tremendous view, for $45,000.
Richard

Dear Helen,
John says he would like you to see a home at 588 Calle de la Mesa, next to the golf course in Loma Verde. It has an all electric kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and is priced at $25,000 and includes many other fine features.
John's Other Wife

Dear Other Wife,
Richard wants so much these days and money is the problem. I understand that McClure has 2 beautiful homes in Glenwood, where we could still be near to golfing and boating and have all electric kitchens for less than $5,000 down.
Helen

Two Vandalism Cases Reported In Novato Homes

Vandals, possibly children, broke into two homes in Novato since last weekend, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Sam Thomas of 651 Peach Street, Novato, reported Wednesday that his property at 1119 Simmons Lane was vacated by renters Monday. The next morning, he found lewd words smeared on one wall with crayon and pencil, and vasoline splattered on the walls of every other room. Small handprints were on the walls.

Leo Long of 1176 Cambridge Street said he just bought the home this week. After the former occupants left and before he could move in, someone broke through the patio door and caused about $250 damage to the interior. A towel rack in the bathroom was torn loose, fingerprints smeared over the walls, mudprints left on the floor. Wet tissue had been strewn throughout the home.

The island of Malta this year is celebrating the 1900th anniversary of the landing of St. Paul.

I-J Staffers Help Prison Newspaper

Independent-Journal managing editor Jack J. Craemer served as acting city editor for a special eight-page edition of The San Quentin News in observance of National Newspaper Week.

Craemer and other Bay Area newsmen combined forces with the prison newspaper's inmate staff to prepare the special edition.

The Independent-Journal editor contributed a guest editorial and I-J staff reporter Randall Gould wrote a special column for the prison paper.

In his editorial, Craemer pointed out that The San Quentin News "deserves to be honored within the walls as well as on the outside. . . .

"The observance of National Newspaper Week should serve the same purpose inside that it serves outside: let the readers be reminded of the good work being done by the people who produce their newspaper."

Freshman Honored

JoAnne Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jensen, 1204 Lipwood Drive, Novato, was one of 88 freshmen to receive honors at entrance this fall at Pacific Lutheran University, Parkland, Wash.

Arsonists Blamed For Old Mill Fire

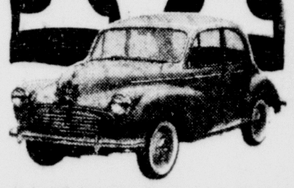

Mill Valley firemen today blamed arsonists for a fire which burned a four-by-eight foot hole in the roof of the historic old mill in Old Mill Park Wednesday.

Fire Chief Leslie Armager noted this was the second fire in the mill in about a month. On Sept. 10, the rafters were found to be smouldering but the fire did not cause much damage.

Volunteer fireman Jimmy Oliver fell off a ledge of the creek while fighting the fire, hurting his right arm.

Edmund Biggerstaff of 37 Cascade Way called in the alarm at 6:20 p.m.

Two Vandalism Cases Reported In Novato Homes

Vandals, possibly children, broke into two homes in Novato since last weekend, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Sam Thomas of 651 Peach Street, Novato, reported Wednesday that his property at 1119 Simmons Lane was vacated by renters Monday. The next morning, he found lewd words smeared on one wall with crayon and pencil, and vasoline splattered on the walls of every other room. Small handprints were on the walls.

Leo Long of 1176 Cambridge Street said he just bought the home this week. After the former occupants left and before he could move in, someone broke through the patio door and caused about $250 damage to the interior. A towel rack in the bathroom was torn loose, fingerprints smeared over the walls, mudprints left on the floor. Wet tissue had been strewn throughout the home.

The island of Malta this year is celebrating the 1900th anniversary of the landing of St. Paul.

I-J Staffers Help Prison Newspaper

Independent-Journal managing editor Jack J. Craemer served as acting city editor for a special eight-page edition of The San Quentin News in observance of National Newspaper Week.

Craemer and other Bay Area newsmen combined forces with the prison newspaper's inmate staff to prepare the special edition.

The Independent-Journal editor contributed a guest editorial and I-J staff reporter Randall Gould wrote a special column for the prison paper.

In his editorial, Craemer pointed out that The San Quentin News "deserves to be honored within the walls as well as on the outside. . . .

"The observance of National Newspaper Week should serve the same purpose inside that it serves outside: let the readers be reminded of the good work being done by the people who produce their newspaper."

Freshman Honored

JoAnne Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jensen, 1204 Lipwood Drive, Novato, was one of 88 freshmen to receive honors at entrance this fall at Pacific Lutheran University, Parkland, Wash.

Arsonists Blamed For Old Mill Fire

Mill Valley firemen today blamed arsonists for a fire which burned a four-by-eight foot hole in the roof of the historic old mill in Old Mill Park Wednesday.

Fire Chief Leslie Armager noted this was the second fire in the mill in about a month. On Sept. 10, the rafters were found to be smouldering but the fire did not cause much damage.

Volunteer fireman Jimmy Oliver fell off a ledge of the creek while fighting the fire, hurting his right arm.

Edmund Biggerstaff of 37 Cascade Way called in the alarm at 6:20 p.m.

Fund Drive For Symphony Guild Lagging

Barry Boland, president of the Symphoney Guild of Marin, told membership drive workers at a San Anselmo meeting Wednesday that the guild has reached only 50 per cent of its goal. The drive will be extended to Nov. 10.

"Many of our present members have been lax in renewing their membership," said Boland, adding that the problem is accentuated by population movement creating need for new members due to turnover.

At the same time the guild faces financal needs greater than ever with a $14,500 budget comparing with one of $12,500 last year, Boland said. He attributed the rise to a 10 per cent increase in union musician's salaries and added that the Junior League is unable to renew its previous contributions for the Youth Orchestra.

Aside from a $1,000 county grant, the membership drive finances all guild activity through associate memberships at $6 for single, $10 for double, honorary at $25, sponsor $50 and patron $100.

Boland said the guild must curtail its work unless more memberships come in. It has presented its guild orchestra, comprising 77 Marin residents, in three concerts annually at Marin Catholic High School for eight years. The Youth Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi has given two concerts a year for six years.

The association will have offices at 53 Jordan Street, in the Builders Exchange building.

The next directors meeting will be Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. in the Greenbrae Co. office, 500 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae. The next membership meeting is scheduled Nov. 16 at 8 p.m. in the assembly hall of Peacock Court Apartments, 45 Woodland Avenue.

Army Reveals Newest Weapon

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — The Army says it has developed a grenade launcher which looks like a sawed-off shotgun and can shoot around corners.

It announced yesterday that the weapon would be issued to troops early next year for use against machine gun nests, bunkers, and small troop concentrations.

The grenade launcher weighs only six pounds and hurls a nine-ounce projectile out of an oversized barrel.
